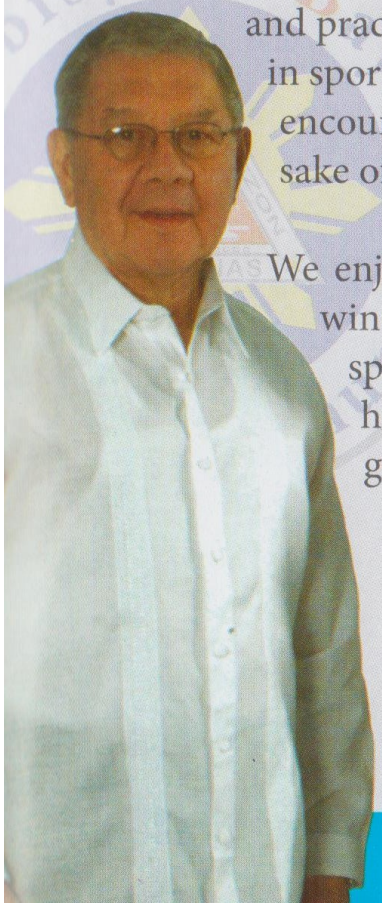
Message

We welcome the participants in this year's sportsfest of the Quezon City Hall Employee's Athletic Association.

Sports and athletics improve not only the physical fitness but also the character of an individual. Athletes are admired not only for their excellence in playing a game but for their behavior and attitude while playing it.

We support sports activities among our officials and employees of the city government firstly, to inculcate in them the value of great sportsmanship; secondly, to make them appreciate and practice the virtue of being a team player not only in sports but also in their office assignments; lastly, to encourage them to engage in sports activities for the sake of their health and physical well-being



We enjoin the athletes to exert their best efforts to win and to sharpen their talents in their respective sports events. We call upon the winners to be humble in victory and the losers to accept defeat gracefully with their chins up.

Message

Athletic competions are part of the human resources development program of the government designed to ensure health consciousness and physical fitness among the citizenry. Sports enhance physical capacity and alertness of the people to rise up to the call of duty for the maintenance of peace and order and national development

The 34th Summer Sportsfest of the Quezon City Hall Employees' Athletic Association (QCHEAA) is not just a competition to watch for, but also an opportunity to promote an alert, vibrant, and healthy workforce in a bid to step up the city's sports competition agenda.

This remarkable undertaking we have just embarked on should give us an insight into the responsibility that we are expected to do, as well as a keen understanding of the importance and scope of sports in fostering self-discipline, team work and excellence for the development of a healthy and alert citizenry.

Insomuch as you have already taken the initiative, we would like to seek your partnership, so that together, we can carry out schemes to warrant that this sports exposure tournament would lead to concrete, measurable and long term sports expansion program, at the same time fulfilling our own sports development priorities.

Again, more power to us all and best wishes!

Message

As your re-elected Chairman of the Quezon City Hall Employees Athletic Association, I wish to congratulate all participating teams and offices for this 34th Inter-Department Tournament.

During the 2009 Sports Summit at Days Hotel, Tagaytay City last February 7 & 8 2009, we presented all our activities, evaluated and assessed the conduct of all sports activities in 2008. The sports coordinators are unanimous in saying that without the financial and moral support of our City Mayor Feliciano Belmonte, Jr. the year-round sports development program of the city government will not be as exciting and passionate as it is being conducted in the past three years.

In behalf of all team representatives and sports coordinators, we would like to show our gratitude to our City Mayor, who provided the budget on shoes and uniforms for all slated events, by actively participating and playing in all scheduled games. Likewise to our Vice Mayor who had been financially generous and supportive to the quest for excellence in sports.

Good luck to all players and to all the participating teams.

Mabuhay ang QCHEAA!

Message

Our Summer Sportsfest will kick off our Sports Activities for the year. We have exerted our best effort from our Sports Summit last February in Tagaytay to our series of meetings and planning sessions, just to ensure that we will be able to come up with another sports league for our employees to be able to relax and take a break from their stressful public service.

A lot of thanks to our dear Mayor for the full support that he has extended to all of us employees. This has resulted to a closer camaraderie and a stronger tie that has bound all team representatives from the different offices. We hope that this will inspire us all in the delivery of our respective work assignments as we bring Quezon City to greater heights.

The best of luck to our athletes!

A brief history of the Quezon City Hall Employees Athletic Association (QCHEAA)

(reprinted from the 1st Metro Manila Inter-City/Municipalityu Local Government Employees Basketball and Volleyball Tournament Souvenir Program November 1980)

A City conceived in a dream of man incomparable the late Pres. Manuel Luis Quezon. He envisioned a place where the common man will find his place with dignity.

Quezon City 0nly 41 years old- still very young in the perspective of time, has undergone tremendous development. From the vast, swampy lands, forest and cogonal lands, it has burgeoned into a throbbing metropolis with a population of 1,165,999. It has a total land are of 15,359 hectares.

Although some quarters may observe that it may not yet be the "dream city" Pres. Quezon envisioned, the efforts made by the present city administration is a great stride towards its accomplishment of the vision.

After its founding, quezon City can boast of several achievement which partially fulfills the dream of Quezon for the city. It has become the seat of national government at Constituion Hills- the Batasang Pambansa Complex. A Great number of national government ministries, commissions, bureaus and offices are based in the city among which are the Metropolitan Manila Commision, social Security System, Bureau of Internal Revenue and Central Bank (Mint and Gold Refinery). It has distinguished itself as the seat of the nation's notable center for higher learning- the University of the Philippines. Here can also be found the world's biggest dome, araneta Coliseum, the site of the famous Ali-Frazier fight. The heat Foundation of Asia, equipped with modern and sensitive cardiological instruments for heart ailments is located in Quezon City.

Moreover, Quezon City is noted for its well maintained parks simulated open spaces for recreational purposes such as Bernardo Park, Quezon Memorial Circle, Botanical gardens, Balara (Filters) Plant and the La Mesa Dam Park.

Plans are a-foot to make Quezon City the citadel of tru living environment- "Garden City" of the Metropolis.

Today, Quezon City is well in the road to full development, with its lovely and energetic Mayor Adelina S. Rodriguez providing the needed directions.
Infrastructure and socio-economic projects such as health center, markets and slaughterhouses, tree planting, beautification, parks and playground, sports development program and cultural projects have been implemented. All these projects are intended to catalyze physical and socio-economic growth of the communities and identified locations and rationalize the development of the city.

Quezon City today retains its importance and distinction as the main national government center.

The efforts of the city government are continuing to grow and prosper into a self-contained community, truly a City of Man, 'crowning jewel" to outlast the fame of its founder and chief architect.

Almost three decades later, and after three city mayors, Quezon City has for a vision: "The Quezon City Government envisions itself to be: A Model of effective governance and responsible leadership, working in partnership with the citizenry in building a Quezlity Community." The Quezon City Government is committed to execute its mission: "To provide quality service which will make Quezon City an ideal community where people live, work and do business in a hospitable, progressive and peaceful environment.

Indeed, under the helm of our Honorable City Mayor Feliciano Belmonte, Jr, Quezon City was awarded as one of the "Asian City of the Future". Our City Mayor has aptly said "Our great City is not the result of change, but of the vision, strategies and hardwork of its people and their leaders"

Cities like Quezon City are now the new nations, able to source for themselves investments, business opportunities and resources. In the Philippines, more progressive cities like Quezon City are igniting engines of growth; competition becomes easier now that we have put our house in order. Through radical reforms in fiscal and financial management and capacity building, city government has put together a well-oiled bureaucracy. Quezon City's successful governance innovations have been recognized by both local and foreign organizations and have been the recipient of many awards.

Our beloved City Mayor Feliciano "SB" Belmonte, Jr. thinks not only of the future of the city government, not only the constituents but also the Quezon City employees' physical and psycho-sociological needs. His unwavering support to the sports development of the employees has breathed muscle to it.

During the leadership of Mayor Brigido Simon, Jr., Mr. Ramon M. Matabang was elected as Chairman of the Quezon City Hall Employees Athletic Association (QCHEAA) where participants were provided with uniform and jackets. Mr. Matabang regained chairmanship of the association with Architect Sonny Rodriguez as the Secretary General during the term of the incumbent city mayor and now team players are provided with uniforms and shoes for basketball and volleyball games and uniforms for all other events. In addition, Mayor Feliciano Belmonte, Jr. funded the annual sports summit for QCHEAA held out-of-town for all team representatives and sports coordinators since 2008.

The short history of the association would not be complete if we do not mention all the past chairmen of the association with special mention to Mr. Dominador A. Ocrisima formerly head of the Cultural and Tourism Affairs Office (CTAO) who had been instrumental in continuing the tradition of the city with regards to sports development.

We salute the men behind the success of the QCHEAA for the past decades (from the late 70's to the 80's). They showed dedication, exemplified sportsmanship, and discipline and left a legacy worth emulating for:

SPORTSMANSHIP

Talk delivered by Quezon City Hall Employees Athletic Association

Secretary General Arch. Pedro "Sonny" Rodriguez, Jr.

If you're into sports, you've seen it happen. You've probably even experienced it: Football players shaking hands after four quarters of knocking each other around. Tennis players leaping over the net to shake hands with their opponents after a hard-fought match. Soccer players exchanging jerseys after an intense 90 minutes. Even boxers touching gloves at the beginning of each round, then hugging each other after beating each other into a pulp for 12 rounds.

It seems like competitors in every event, from spelling bees to hockey, behave this way. What's going on? It's all part of sportsmanship, a great tradition in sports and competition that means playing clean and handling both victory and defeat with grace, style, and dignity.

What Is Sportsmanship?

Sportsmanship is defined as: playing fair following the rules of the game respecting the judgment of referees and officials treating opponents with respect

- Some people define good sportsmanship as the "golden rule" of sports — in other words, treating the people you play with and against as you'd like to be treated yourself.
- You demonstrate good sportsmanship when you show respect for yourself, your teammates, and your opponents, for the coaches on both sides, and for the referees, judges, and other officials.
- But sportsmanship isn't just reserved for the people on the field. Cheerleaders, fans, and parents also need to be aware of how they behave during competition.
- Sportsmanship is a style and an attitude, and it can have a positive influence on everyone around you.

Win or Lose, Sportsmanship Helps You Get Through

In the last few years, taunting, trash talking, gloating, and cheap shots have become all too common in sports. You've probably seen athletes who take their own successes too seriously, too. They celebrate a goal with a prolonged victory dance or constantly brag about their abilities.

This is the exact opposite of what sportsmanship is all about. This kind of behavior might make you feel tough or intimidating to an opponent, but keep in mind it can also cause you to lose the match.

Plenty of games have been lost to penalties gathered from "unsportsmanlike conduct."

Everyone feels great when they win, but it can be just as hard to be a good sport when you've won a game as when you've lost one. Good sportsmanship takes maturity and courage — when you work really hard at a sport, it's not easy to admit you made a bad play or that someone has more skills than you. In competition — as in life — you may not always win but you can learn something from losing, too.

It's pretty tough to lose, so it definitely doesn't help matters if someone continues taunting you or your team after the competition is over. Sometimes it's hard to swallow your pride and walk on. But there's always the next match.

When you do lose — and it will happen

- Don't take it out on your opponent, blame the officials, or blame your team. Take it in stride.
- When you lose, lose with class. Being proud of how you performed, or at least being aware of things you need to improve for next time, is key.

- When it comes to losing, good sportsmanship means congratulating the winners promptly and willingly.
- It means accepting the game's outcome without complaint and without excuses, even if you sometimes might suspect the referees made some questionable calls.

When you win…

- The trick is to be a gracious and generous winner. Good sportsmanship means acknowledging victories without humiliating opponents, being quietly proud of success, and letting victories speak for themselves.
- Even if you win by a landslide, good sportsmanship means still finding ways to compliment your opponents.

Practicing Good Sportsmanship

So what does it take to demonstrate good sportsmanship in real-life situations? Here are some examples of things you can do:

- Learn as much as you can about your sport. Play by its rules. Show up for practice, work hard, and realize that on a team, everyone deserves a chance to play.
- Talk politely and act courteously toward everyone before, during, and after games and events. That includes your teammates, your opponents, your coaches and their coaches, the officials presiding over the game, and even spectators (who can sometimes be loud about their opinions).
- Stay cool. Even if others are losing their tempers, it doesn't mean you have to. Remind yourself that no matter how hard you've practiced and played, it is, after all, just a game.
- Avoid settling disputes with violence. If you're in a difficult situation or someone's threatening you, seek help immediately from your coach or from an official. Remember, too, that if you respond with violence you could get penalized, which could hurt your chances of winning.
- Cheer your teammates on with positive statements — and avoid trash-talking the other team.

Acknowledge and applaud good plays, even when someone on the other team makes them.

- When officials make a call, accept it gracefully even if it goes against you. Remember that referees may not be right every time — but they're people who are doing their best, just as you are.
- Whether you win or lose congratulates your opponents on a game well played.

Fair and Fun

- Good sportsmanship means not having a "win at any cost" attitude. Most athletes who don't have a "win at any cost" attitude are more likely to talk about how much they love their sport and how much personal satisfaction and enjoyment they get from participation.
- Most people won't go on to play professional sports, and only a few will win scholarships to play at college. But many forget to have a good time during the years they do play because they're so focused on winning. And, unfortunately, parents and coaches sometimes put too much pressure on athletes, emphasizing winning at all costs.
- So although it's great to be a champion, it's even better to have enjoyed the process of trying to reach the top.
- It's best to play fair while having fun.

Sportsmanship Off the Field

- Learning good sportsmanship means finding that the positive attitude learned on the field carries over into other areas of life.
- You may enjoy more success at work as well, because a big part of learning good sportsmanship is learning to be respectful of others, your immediate superior including co-workers under your supervision and the general public we serve.

THE TEAM REPRESENTATIVE or THE SPORTS COORDINATOR

The TEAM REPRESENTATIVE or the TR is the extension of The Department Head as far as QCHEAA is concerned. The team representative not the coach or the team captain, is the only person recognized by QCHEAA to file a protest, request, file amendments to a rule and receive materials from the association.

Duties and Responsibility:

1. TR's or his duly authorized representative MUST be present in all meetings and it is his responsibility to relay the minutes of the meeting to the members of his team. (e.g. during the course of the tournament, players of the Treasury Department is still complaining why the local and national team are combined.) It is either that the players obviously are not aware of what has been discussed in the meeting or they are absent when the TR discussed the minutes of the meeting.
2. TR's should be in the games as much as possible. If he is not around, then the Coach will fill in his position in our association, then the Team Captain if still the coach is not around. So, it is important for us to identify whom the coached and team captains are. No protests will be entertained from the players. (e.g. when the TR was absent during a badminton tournament, the committee was forced to approach a player, who in turned answered the committee arrogantly resulting to the suspension of that particular player.
3. TR's are responsible for the unsportsmanlike and arrogant actions of the players. We, as a team in the QCHEAA know each other's our body language. We have established ourselves in brotherhood as one family. We hope, we could pass this camaraderie on to our players (e.g. Our team: Mayor's A has three cases; one, during a game with five seconds remaining, we were slapped of a foul in the act of shooting and two technical fouls. Obviously, the referee decided the outcome of the game. Second case, the Engineering team fielded in six players, which resulted to a technical foul. A howl of protest was instigated by the whole engineering team, which caused so much delay in the game. Third case: a player from COPRISS, included in our line-up suited up against our Senior's game with the Treasury epartment, we won this hard fought game in overtime only to lose to a protest on the age bracket of that articular player. In all cases, to the dismay of my teammates, I have to decide against our favor, simply because I am the Secretary General. To most of us athletes, "Ang pinaglalabanan dito: KARANGALAN."Our games might have the implication, that there is no substitute for victory. I might have lost the games, but I might have won the glory of honesty and fair play.

4. TR's should pacify his players to be composed when arrogant complaining occurs. It should be us who should be mediating and not to be a part of the commotion. This situation would require our ntervention and not merely let emotions rule. (e.g. case of NDC coach throwing trash talks against the referee.)

5. Protest should be submitted or noted by the TR's. otherwise it will not be accepted. This procedure will ensure that protests are screened by the TR's who understands the situation or is even part of the technical committee in spirit.

6. It is the responsibility of the TR for his team to bide to what has been decided on meetings, such as;

   6.1 Schedule of uniform measurement
   6.2 Picture-taking
   6.3 Submission of line-up, which includes coaches and team captains

7. No uniforms, shoes, caps, etc. will be given to non-TR's, otherwise an authorization should be issued. (e.g. Treasury)

8. TR should check the eligibility of all players, contract of services, appointments, etc. (e.g. Mayor's vs. Treasury)

9. TR should ensure that the team has complete uniform during the game. We should ensure that there would be no out-of-size uniforms. No uniform, no play. (e.g. Our player Tan, asked somebody to send over his uniform, and was able to play second half on that game)

10. Let us all be creative in our parade. This is our league, a tournament of our association. (e.g. Parks Dev. Admin. Dept., Engineering caps, Mayor's A's dog., balloons, etc.)
