THE QUEZON CITY JAYCEERETTES FOUNDATION, INC.
THE SEARCH FOR
"THE OUTSTANDING PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS OF QUEZON CITY"

By: Project Chairman Milagros E. Cruz

The idea of setting up a foundation was first conceived in 1982 during the term of Lita Deomano as President of the Quezon City Jayceerettes, Inc. It took some ten long years before it finally became a reality. Though the dynamic leadership of President Charminia Banal in 1990, concrete steps were taken towards the establishment of the Foundation. The vigorous efforts of Legal Counsel Marina Abad led to the final registration of the Foundation with the Securities and Exchange Commission on September 4, 1991. And just as soon as it acquired legal personality, the Foundation took over from the Quezon City Jayceerettes, Inc. the implementation of the annual search for " The Outstanding Public School Teachers of Quezon City."

The search, now on its 16th year, was initiated by President Wilma Sarino in 1979, to give appropriate recognition to public school teachers whose proficiency and dedication to work have helped in upgrading public education in our country. For much had been said about how education determines a nation's prosperity — better education provides the people with the competitive edge that makes them excel and hastens the progress of a nation.

We find that the moulders of our youth, particularly those in public schools, play a very vital role in building human infrastructure of the nation.

Today, our country's leadership advocates the vision of Philippines 2000 and people empowerment. This can be achieved only if we integrate in our priority plan a program that aims to provide a higher level of literacy among our people. The Search for the Outstanding Public School Teacher of Quezon City is by no means grandiose in scale, but it is a small, yet significant step taken towards that vision. And for as long as the Foundation believes and values educators as propellers of national growth, so shall the Annual Search go on.

Message

I take pride in greeting the officers and members of the Quezon City Jaycerettes Foundation, Inc., on the launching of your 16th Search for The Outstanding Public School Teachers of Quezon City.

Your foundation, which is composed of professional and career women, has been an effective partner of the city government in alleviating the plight of our underserved sectors, paticularly in our effort to improve the public school system in the city.

The city's programs which are aimed at upgrading the standard of education among the youth — such as the schoolbuilding program, improvement of school facilities, the granting of monthly allowances to public school teachers and raising their longevity pay — are best complemented by your organization's "Search for Outstanding Public School Teachers."

I firmly believe that the award motivates our teachers to excel in their performance to become models to their fellow teachers in the effort to promote and upgrade the standard of education and encourage the youth to be serious in their pursuit of higher education.

Therefore, there is no nobler public mission than recognizing our mentors in stressing the importance of granting the youth proper and good education to prime up their future role as leaders and partners in the city government's pursuit for growth and development to enhance our country's vision for the next decade.

MABUHAY KAYONG LAHAT!

Message

I wish to express my warmest congratulations to the Quezon City Jayceerettes for undertaking this 1994 Search for the Outstanding Public School Teachers of Quezon City in the Elementary and Secondary Divisions.

The pivotal role played by teachers in the intellectual development and character-formation of our children and youth in their highly formative and impressionable age has been beyond question. Indeed, no nobler profession can be so worthy of public gratitude and emulation than that exercised by our patient and understanding teachers specially in our public schools who can expect no greater reward than the deserved distinction of having rendered exemplary public service in utmost dedication and skilled application.

We are grateful to the Quezon City Jayceerettes Foundation for spearheading this initiative that has become a regular and recognized activity generating wholehearted public support and commendation.

This public recognition extended to our most qualified and deserving public school teachers by a prestigious organization lends credit to the admirable performance and excellence by which they have conducted themselves and which confer upon them the honor and distinction of being nominated for the elevated position as the proud recipients of this 1994 recognition and acknowledgment award.

To all our public school teachers, our heartfelt appreciation and warmest congratulations!

Message

The search for "The Outstanding Public School Teachers of Quezon City" is a tradition that has strengthened the bonds of friendship between our Quezon City Jayceerettes and the Quezon City government, a partnership that has proven to be truly rewarding with the passage of time.

Now on its 16th year, the annual search has become an institution that continues to challenge and inspire our educators to strive for and, consequently, achieve excellence. In a modest way, it has served as a venue for giving due recognition to those mentors whose teaching skills and selfless dedication to their noble profession are worthy of emulation.

As the 1990 president of the Quezon City Jayceerettes, Inc., and founding chairman of the Q.C. Jayceerettes Foundation, Inc., which has successfully taken over the sponsorship from the former since 1991, I feel genuinely honored to have been part of this beautiful tradition

And having spearheaded this Jayceerette project for the past four consecutive years gives me that confidence that for as long as we value education as a propeller for national growth, we will be bound closely together, and as fully committed, to this worthy endeavor.

To all the finalists and winners, our warm congratulations; to the city government and the division of city schools and our other benefactors and friends, a "big" thank you; and to my able successor, Ms. Bebot Macapanpan, and her 1994-1995 Board, carry on!

Message

This year's search for the "Outstanding Public School Teachers of Quezon City" cannot but assume an added and welcome significance in the light of the intellectual and moral development that are slowly seeping through our system. Laudable undertakings such as this will surely go a long way towards restoring lustre and recognition to the teaching profession — one tradition regarded as the noblest among the professions.

Education is a developmental process that changes with the emerging scenario at present time. Educators continually learn new ways and techniques to hone their craft, molding the minds of their pupils. Enabling them to expand their imagination and letting them comprehend the facts and realities of life, environment, and the world.

If only for this, the Quezon City Jayceerettes Foundation, Inc., should continue with full and unending support to this type of undertakings. I thus, for more than ten years have been an active participant in this endeavor, would like to extend my sincerest appreciation and congratulate all who unselflessly committed their time, talent and treasure to ensure the success of this project.

Again, to all the awardees, congratulations, and together let us be guided constantly by this proverb: "Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding."

The Philippine Amusement & Gaming Corporation

What it is all about.

A TOURIST ATTRACTION

PAGCOR operates world-class casinos in major cities nationwide, which serve as a major tourist destination and showcase of Filipino hospitality. Tourists and players from Asia and other parts of the world regularly come to the Philippines, not just to marvel at the country's natural beauty and historical heritage, but also to try their luck and enjoy moments of fun at Casino Filipino -- where bets are made in pleasant atmosphere and warm smiles.

A CIVIC PARTNER

But more than just providing gaming and leisure, PAGCOR helps bring new meaning and hope to countless lives who are beneficiaries of its financial assistance. Part of the money that PAGCOR earns from its casinos goes to civic and community projects that touch the lives, among other persons, of the handicapped, orphans and streetchildren, out-of-school youth, drug dependents, the aged, and victims of calamities.

AN ECONOMIC ALLY

And more than simply being an agency that manages casinos and regulates gaming, PAGCOR is a veritable economic ally and partner in national development. The bulk of PAGCOR's casino earnings goes to the national government and is used for priority infrastructure and other projects geared towards stimulating economic growth. PAGCOR funds are also channelled towards energy development programs and socio-economic projects of local government units in various areas of the country. PAGCOR has become government's third largest source of revenues and a powerful catalyst for national development.
