MESSAGE

Quezon City Chamber of Commerce and Industry

I take pride in having been President of Quezon City Chamber of Commerce and Industry (QCCCI) for two terms, with a team of people who have contributed their share to what QCCCI has evolved through two years. As local chambers look up on what QCCCI has publicly made itself known for through its glorious past as led by my predecessors, QCCCI Board 2005 and 2006 looked within and discovered the essence for which it existed and should exist. My salute goes to those men and women who took part in that phase of QCCCI history.

I take pride in the concreteness of the QCCCI vision and directions in the current times, capitalizing on its core industries that benefit the diverse businesses in particular but that opens the global opportunities. This is with reference to the one-town-one-product (OTOP) project of QCCCI, the Medical and Wellness Tourism. Aside from the QC OTOP taking centerstage in many conferences, Medical Tourism offers enormous golden opportunities for almost all business sectors in the country and the city. Challenges are inevitable but are manageable. The inspiration that the vision brings is more powerful than the fears that may hold us back.

I take pride in the new set of Board of Directors headed by President Carmina Desales who can assure and ensure the future of this QCCCI Flagship Project.

I take pride in the relationship of the QCCCI and the QC Local Government with Mayor Sonny Belmonte Jr. who is supportive as ever for everything that QCCCI endeavors.

As QCCCI has taken pride of its multi-awarded past, the future may bring greater pride once it is able to propel micro- small and medium enterprises (MSMEs) to greater opportunities. The seed has been planted and should be nurtured through the synergized efforts and talents of both the private and public sectors.

This induction shall also launch the "Grand Alliance for QC Medical Tourism." A syndicated effort and commitment to bring QC closer to its global positioning as a Medical and Wellness Destination.

Congratulations and More Power to all the men and women of QCCCI.

DO YOU ALWAYS FEEL SLEEPY?!

...while driving?
...at the office?
you may be suffering from...

OBSTRUCTIVE SLEEP APNEA

What is Obstructive Sleep Apnea (OSA)?

- Obstructive Sleep Apnea (OSA) is a potentially life-altering and life-threatening breathing disorder that occurs during sleep.
- The upper Airway repeatedly collapses, causing cessation of breathing (apnea) or inadequate breathing (hypopnea) and sleep fragmentation.
- Sleep fragmentation result in chronic daytime sleepiness

Consequences if OSA is Left Untreated?

- Hypertension
- Cardiac Arrhythmias
- Myocardial Ischemia
- Myocardial Infarction
- Stroke
- Decreased quality of life

Prevalence:

- 50-60% of patients with impaired cardiac functions suffer from sleep related breathing disorders
- nearly 30% of patients with severe heart failure suffer from daytime sleepiness.
- 4% of men and 2% of women aged 30-60 meet minimal diagnostic criteria for OSA with excessive daytime sleepiness (an estimated 18 million people). An even greater number of people have subclinical apnea/hypopnea during sleep.
- Motor vehicle & work accidents due to sleepiness
- OSA patients, prior to diagnosis & treatment, consume 12 ½ times more health care resources than patients w/o OSA.

Identification of OSA:

Signs and Symptoms

- Snoring, interrupted by pauses in breathing (apnea)
- Excessive daytime sleepiness
- Gasping or choking during sleep
- Large neck/girth (>17" in men, > 16" in women)
- Poor judgment/concentration
- Memory loss
- Intellectual deterioration
- Oropharyngeal crowding
- Obesity
- Restless sleep
- Morning headaches
- Sexual dysfunction
- Nocturnal angina
- Depression
- Irritability
- Nocturia
- Hypertension

Diagnosis

- If a patient's signs & symptoms indicate sleep apnea, evaluation by a physician specializing in sleep disorders is recommended.
- A sleep study provides information about how a patient breathes & sleeps. The data collected enables the physician determine the type & severity of sleep apnea & determine treatment options.

Intervention:

Primary

Positive Airway Pressure (PAP) therapy is the treatment of choice for Obstructive Sleep Apnea. This Therapy includes Continuous Positive Airway Pressure (CPAP), automatic CPAP, and Bi-level Positive Airway Pressure (BiPAP).

Secondary

Less common treatments include surgery, body position modification and oral appliances, which may be effective in certain individuals

Overall

Any intervention should include lifestyle changes such as weight loss (if needed), good sleep hygiene, and avoidance of alcohol, sedatives, and hypnotics.
