FOREWORD

FACTS & FIGURES, an annual publication of the Quezon City Public Library, is on its 4th year.

Pursuant to its original purpose of providing a handy source of information about Quezon City, FACTS & FIGURES '90, which is supposed to cover the period, July 1989 to June 1990, contains additional significant and interesting facts and updated figures about Quezon City that reflect the city's progress.

The accomplishments of the legislative and executive branches of the city government as well as of the City Prosecutor's Office are given, affording a basis for the people to judge their respective performances.

Many of the accomplishment reports submitted did not, however, cover the requested period to be covered which is why we had said, "supposed to cover. . ." Furthermore, some reports were exceedingly brief and sketchy; others were submitted so late, there was no time to edit and improve them. As it is, the publication is coming out rather late due to other circumstances beyond our control.

While past issues of this publication contain historical facts about Quezon City, FACTS & FIGURES '90 gives a more comprehensive and updated history of Quezon City, written, for easier reading, comprehension and retention, in a Question and Answer manner, hence, the title of this special feature: PRIMER ON THE HISTORY OF QUEZON CITY.

Another special feature is a progress report on the ongoing development of the Quezon Memorial Circle submitted by Atty. Charito Planas, President of the Quezon City Parks Development Foundation, Inc.

To the Honorable Mayor Brigido R. Simon, Jr., Vice Mayor Vicente Sotto III, City Councilors, the Heads or Chiefs of the various Departments, Offices, Divisions, Boards and Units of the city government, to Mr. Ben O. Flores, and to all others whose cooperation facilitated the publication of this year's FACTS & FIGURES, we extend our deepest appreciation and sincerest thanks.

Mayor BRIGIDO R. SIMON, JR.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR

Mayor Simon has been Chief Executive of the city for five years already, as OIC from 1986 to 1987 and as elected Mayor, 1988 to 1990. His term expires on June 30, 1992 as per Section 2, Article XVIII of 1987 Constitution unless the common elections for national and local officials in May 1992 are desynchronized.

He was elected President of the City Mayors League in 1988 and re-elected in 1990.

Under Mayor Simon's administration, the city government went through some reorganization. Four new departments have been created: Department of Public Safety, Department of Parks Development Administration, Department of Barangay Affairs and Social Services Development Department, although these have not yet been fully implemented.

Three positions for Assistant City Administrator have been created for Finance, Operations and General Affairs. Also created are two positions for Assistant Secretary to the Mayor and positions for Finance Coordinator and Legislative Performance Officer.

Some new offices, boards and task forces have been created such as Urban Poor Affairs Office, Public Assistance and Legal Aid Office, Economic Development Board, Liquor Licensing and Regulatory Board, and various Task Forces -- Kaunlaran, Socialized Housing, Recovery of City Properties, Roads and/or Open Spaces, Hidden Machineries and Industrial Relations.

The most significant change in the city government, however, was the appointment of the elected Councilors as Deputy Mayors of the 24 Sub-Cities into which the city has been divided by Ordinance No. 110, S-89, September 14, 1989. One Councilor, however, Alicia Herrera, refused to accept the appointment.

The main thrust of Mayor Simon's administration has been for the improvement of the socio-economic condition of the less-endowed portion of the city's population. Towards this end, he has instituted such programs as Socialized Housing Program, Manpower Development Program, Social Welfare Program, Environment Improvement Program, and others.

For the moral upgrading of the people, Mayor Simon has been pushing vigorously a Balik-Disiplina Drive for the inculcation of the virtue of discipline among the people and the Bagong Pilipino Movement for the development of a new breed of Filipino, disciplined, upright, self-reliant, patriotic, to be achieved through an internal moral revolution in the heart of every citizen.

A highlight in the administration of Mayor Simon in 1990 was his reconciliation with erstwhile political foe, Atty. Charito Planas, to whom he offered the position of President of the Quezon City Parks Development Foundation, Inc., which she accepted with alacrity.

Secretary to the Mayor

The incumbent Secretary to the Mayor is Eduardo R. Soliman, Jr. He was appointed on July 16, 1990 by the Mayor. He took over from Emilio E.P. Festejo who was promoted to City Administrator. Secretary Soliman is remembered as former DLGCD Assistant Secretary and MMC Executive Secretary.

QUEZON CITY COUNCIL

Annual Report
CY 1989

I. BRIEF OVERVIEW:

This report aims to provide an insight into the activities and accomplishments of the Quezon City Council during the period from January 2, 1989 to December 29, 1989.

It may be said, in sum, that the year 1989 was a fruitful year for the Quezon City Council in terms of local legislative output supportive of the development thrusts of the city government anchored on the set of priority programs outlined by the City Mayor at the beginning of the year.

The City Councilors were willing and effective partners of the City Mayor in the gigantic task of managing the affairs of the city government.

II COMPOSITION; NEW AND ADDITIONAL MEMBERS:

The Quezon City Council is basically composed of the Vice Mayor as Presiding Officer and twenty-four elected members, six from each of the four Councilor Districts of Quezon City.

In midyear of 1988, a member of the City Council, Hon. Tomas Castro, died at the hands of assassins, and his replacement, Hon. Laoag Paras, was appointed in early February of 1989.

In addition to the elected members of the Quezon City Council, the following were appointed as members thereof in 1989.

1. Hon. Roberto A. Miguel – President, Quezon City Association of Barangay Councils;

2. Hon. Herberto M. Bautista – Kabataang Barangay Representative.

The Quezon City Council has now a total membership of twenty-seven (27), including the Presiding Officer.

III. REORGANIZATION OF OFFICERS, CHAIRMEN, AND MEMBERS OF REGULAR COMMITTEES:

There was a reorganization of the officers, chairmen, and members of the regular committees of the Quezon City Council during the year.

The reorganization was impelled by the need to rotate and provide the other members an opportunity to serve as officers of the City Council, while the changes in the chairmanship and membership of the regular committees were anchored on the need to place the right persons in their proper places where they may be able to optimize their talents and capabilities.

IV. REGULAR AND SPECIAL SESSIONS:

The regular sessions of the Quezon City Council were originally held at 2:00 P.M. on every Monday and Thursday of the week, a total of eight (8) regular sessions a month.

Lately, however, the schedule of the regular sessions of the City Council was changed as follows:

a) 9:00 A.M. on every Monday of the week;
b) 2:00 P.M. on every Tuesday of the week.

The records show the following number of regular and special sessions held by the Quezon City Council in 1989:

a) Regular sessions – 98
b) Special sessions – 4

TOTAL – 102

In conformity with the policy of bringing the government closer to the people, the City Council adopted a resolution which would allow said Council to hold its session outside of its regular venue at least once in a year in each of the four districts of the city. The Council held one session at the Novaliches District Center on August 28, 1989, where the barangay officials and responsible segments of the community were in attendance and watched the Councilors take up the problems of the Novaliches area.

V. ATTENDANCE AT COUNCIL SESSIONS:

The record of attendance of the City Councilors at council sessions is very good, which is about 99.56%. Except for those occasions when they are on record as on official time attending to urgent official business outside of the session hall, the councilors are almost always present at the Council sessions.

VI. COMMITTEE MEETINGS AND PUBLIC HEARINGS:

There are twenty-three (23) regular Committees of the Quezon City Council, and during the year the said Committees held the following meetings and public hearings in aid of local legislation:

a) Committee meetings – 149
b) Public hearings – 7

TOTAL – 156

VII. LOCAL LEGISLATIVE AGENDA FOR CY 1989:

At the first anniversary of the inaugural session of the Quezon City Council held on February 18, 1989, Hon. Brigido R. Simon, Jr., City Mayor of Quezon City, delivered his State of the City Address where he outlined the priority program thrusts of the Quezon City Government for CY 1989 which he dubbed as the eleven (11) "SEEDS OF PROGRESS". They are as follows:

1. Binhi Ng Pabahay
2. Binhi Ng Kabuhayan
3. Binhi Ng Kalinisan
4. Binhi Ng Moralidad
5. Binhi Ng Tunay Na Servicio Civil
6. Binhi Ng Kagandahan at Kalinisan
7. Binhi ng Pagtutulungan, Kapatiran at Pagkakaisa
8. Binhi Ng Kalusugan
9. Binhi Ng Kapayapaan
10. Binhi Ng Karunungan
11. Binhi Ng Kasaganahan

The City Council aligned its local legislative agenda for CY-1989 along the aforementioned priority program thrusts of the city government as outlined by the City Mayor in his State of the City Address.

VIII. LOCAL LEGISLATIVE OUTPUT:

In 1989, the total number of local legislative measures filed by the City Councilors with the Office of the City Secretary is, as follows:

a) Proposed ordinances – 378
b) Proposed resolutions – 320

TOTAL – 698

During said year, the following number of ordinances and resolutions were enacted and adopted, respectively, by the City Council:

a) Ordinances enacted – 57
b) Resolutions adopted – 148

In line with its basic functions to appropriate funds for the expenses of the city government, the Quezon City Council enacted various appropriation ordinances. Most important is the ordinance approving the 1989 Annual Budget of the city government. The Council subsequently enacted ordinances approving five (5) Supplemental Budgets for CY 1989. Approving the Quezon City Annual Budget for CY-1989, which the Council approved through the enactment of an ordinance, and in the aforesaid five (5) Supplemental Budgets for said calendar year.

IX. UNITY OF COUNCIL MEMBERS:

It may be worthy to mention that the members of the Quezon City Council work in harmony in the consideration of measures which promote the general welfare. There had been no serious rifts in the ranks of the City Council to disturb the essence of harmony that prevails among its members, unlike in other legislative bodies elsewhere.

The minority group does its thing on the matter of fiscalization but the members thereof do not stand in the way in the consideration of measures which redound to the benefit and welfare of the people.

X. EXECUTIVE LEGISLATIVE RELATIONS:

The relationship of the Executive and Legislative branches of the Quezon City Government is essentially harmonious, with the members of the City Council being supportive of the program thrusts of the City Mayor.

The Council works with dispatch on matters that the City Mayor consider as urgent in connection with the implementation of the development programs of the administration requiring legislative measures.

XI. CITY COUNCILORS AS DEPUTY CITY MAYORS:

In line with the innovative concept of the City Mayor whereby Quezon City was divided into twenty-four (24) areas known as sub-cities, for purposes of facilitating the delivery of basic services, the City Councilors were designated as Deputy City Mayors in charge of their respective sub-cities.

The Councilors are now in the forefront, close to the people in the barangays in serving their needs.

XII. CONCLUSION:

The year 1989 was a good year for the Quezon City Council and the year 1990 will see the City Councilors embark on their new role as Deputy City Mayors in addition to their basic functions as local legislators for the city.

WILMA AMORANTO SARINO

City Councilor, District I
Vice Chairman, Committee on Education
Deputy Mayor, Sub-City La Loma, Area 6

Accomplishment Report
1989 – 1990

Councilor Wilma Amoranto-Sarino, the lone woman Councilor elected in the First District of Quezon City, has been able to fulfill her commitments to her constituents despite budgetary constraints and her being in the minority.

Among the Quezon City streets that her infrastructure program has improved are Dr. Alejos, Don Manuel, Cadig, M. Cuenco, Lunas, Malindang, Halcon II, Cordillera, and Hermani streets. She has made her position known with bills that regulate the use of the Bernardo Park Swimming Pool, and reducing the element of delay in the jurisdiction of the Metropolitan Trial Court, Metropolitan Circuit Trial Court; and Municipal Trial Court by trying cases under the rule on Summary Procedure. This serves the poor in terms of savings against protracted trial. Also a resolution encouraging Mayor Brigido R. Simon Jr. to initiate the exploratory effort towards the forging of a sister city relation with New Westminster, B.C., Canada.

As a Deputy Mayor, she was able to have the La Loma Sub-City Office constructed in record time bringing the government closer to the people.

A former teacher, free vocational courses for the poor and under privileged are among her educational and livelihood programs.

But over and above all these projects stands out her "High Hopes" Project which primarily caters to the needy children of the first district of Quezon City. What started out with gift giving in 1988 has grown to free medical and dental services. Today, over 16 Barangays have benefited from project "High Hopes" since its launching in December of 1988.

CASTELO . . .

Complementing the massive road improvement projects, the Councilor launched an ambitious project on food production by opening up and converting about four (4) hectares of raw lands into veritable fields of food plants and vegetables. Intended as a demonstration/pilot project, this garden activity is envisioned to expand throughout the five Barangays of Batasan Sub-City where a total of some 50 hectares of open spaces suitable for gardening are available. These lands, if properly tapped and developed into productive areas, will bring extra income to the needy but industrious residents. Aside from contributing to all economic improvement in the community, the gardening project will also serve to arrest the influx of squatters by converting idle open spaces into productive garden bowls instead of leaving them open to surreptitious occupancy by squatters.

Councilor Castelo has mobilized the residents in the five depressed barangays of Batasan Sub-City, Area 7, in a massive cleanliness and beautification drive dubbed "Operation Linis Dungis". The Operation is being supported by the Quezon City

MELENCIO M. CASTELO

City Councilor, District II
Chairman, Committee on Subdivisions, Housing and Real Estate
Chairman, Committee on the Recovery of Open Spaces
2nd Asst. Majority Floor Leader
Deputy Mayor, Sub-City Batasan, Area 7

Accomplishment Report
1989 – 1990

In the broad fields of enlightened and beneficial legislation, the Councilor laid special attention on matters affecting subdivisions, housing and real estate. His abiding concern for a well coordinated planning and development of subdivisions in Quezon City prompted him to consider the return to the City Council of the power to approve and supervise subdivisions within the jurisdiction of Quezon City. Along this line the Councilor introduced a resolution (PM88-384) in the City Council endorsing the approval of a proposed legislation in Congress, calling for the return of the power over subdivisions to local governments which was taken over by the Land Use and Regulatory Board (HLURB) during the Martial Law days. In the meantime the Councilor likewise introduced City Council Resolution No. NC-120 S-88 requesting the HLURB to refer applications of subdivisions in Quezon City, to the City Council of Quezon City before its final approval by the said Board. It is believed that more than any government entity or office, Quezon City is in the best position to make sure that subdivision plans are in accordance with the overall development plan for Quezon City.

With an eye to consolidating ownership of certain landed estates in favor of the QC Government, the Councilor secured the donation/turnover to said government, various parcels of land from the National Housing Authority (NHA) totalling twelve (12) hectares which are devoted to such land uses as open spaces, road lots, alleys, school sites, park sites, market/slaughter and house sites. Conservatively estimated, these parcels of lands added 336 million pesos to the assets of QC government.

Likewise, thru the efforts of Councilor Castelo, other landed estates are for donation to the City Government under pending Ratificatory Resolutions.

With the advent of the Sub-City concept, public service efforts of the Councilor were predominantly concentrated on Batasan Sub-City of which he is the Deputy Mayor. Barangays Batasan Hills, Holy Spirit, Payatas, Commonwealth and Bagong Silangan, which compose the Sub-City, are all depressed areas. The Councilor undertook massive road improvements in the five Barangays. Upon representations with Col. Rodolfo G. Biazon engineering equipment consisting of four (4) dump trucks, two (2) graders bulldozer and payloader were assigned to the Batasan Sub-City for free use in its road improvement projects. The equipment were manned by Armed Forces of the Philippines (AFP) personnel.

A total of 27,970 meters of Barangay roads in the five Barangays have been improved through filling, levelling, and compacting with 22,120 families as beneficiaries. Some 450 truckloads of filling materials were used and about 600 truckloads were stored for ready use.

The equipment and assistance of the Engineering Brigade of the AFP saved Quezon City Millions of pesos. The filling materials alone if supplied by private contractors would have cost the City Government the staggering amount of One Hundred Twenty-nine Thousand Nine Hundred Pesos (P129,900.00) at Three Hundred Pesos (P300.00) per truckload.

ALICIA A. HERRERA

Councilor, 2nd District

Accomplishment Report, 1989-1990

The accomplishments of Councilor Herrera covered two areas: Legislative and Non-Legislative. She chose not to accept the position of Deputy Mayor of any of the 24-Sub-Cities into which Quezon City has been divided because, she said, the sub-city concept impairs the legislative-executive balance.

LEGISLATIVE:

Councilor Herrera gave priority to legislation on women's rights and welfare, youth welfare and on the welfare of the poorest of the poor comprising about 30 percent of the populations.

For the period covered by this report, Councilor Herrera filed nine (9) resolutions and eight (8) ordinances. Seven (7) of these resolutions were approved.

Notable among these resolutions is a resolution urging the Metropolitan Traffic Command to assign a traffic investigator in every precinct of Quezon City. The resolution has been implemented resulting in the prevention of traffic jams that usually follow a vehicular accident.

ISIDRO R. SALUDES

City Councilor, District II
Chairman, Committee on Games and Amusement
Vice Chairman, Committees on Ways & Means and Subdivision, Housing & Real Estate
Deputy Mayor, Sub-City Balintawak

Accomplishment Report
1989 – 1990

Before his election to the Quezon City Council in the local election of January 1988, Councilor Saludes was a practising lawyer and a former Judge in Camarines Norte.

He is populist in his approach to legislation.

Written in the Statute Books of Quezon City Government, among others, is an Ordinance authored by him giving preferential right to bonafide residents of Quezon City to employment in all private establishments in Quezon City imposing fine and imprisonment in case of non-observance thereof.

Thanks to this Ordinance, thousands of residents are now employed in the different private establishments to the exclusion of non-residents.

This preferential right to employment vested on the bonafide residents and the penal provisions for violation thereof has eliminated the tedious practice of securing recommendation from politicians and influential persons – thereby making it easy for the poor applicants to be employed. In a way, it has reduced unemployment in the City.

Another important legislation authored by Councilor Isidro R. Saludes is an Ordinance penalizing the Owners, Directors, attending Physicians and Personnel of Hospitals in Quezon City, both private and public, who refuse admission of emergency patients for failure to pay advance deposit.

The term emergency patient includes a pregnant woman whose life is in danger unless immediate caesarean operation is performed for the delivery of the child.

The passage of the Ordinance has eliminated the inhuman policy of the Hospitals in refusing admission of emergency patients who are unable is to pay advance deposit.

Needless to say, many lives have been saved by the Ordinance, particularly indigent patients.

Equally of vital importance is the passage of the Ordinance penalizing the demolition of squatters' houses without the benefit of a Court Order. The Ordinance has undoubtedly reduced the incidence of violence, in the demolition of the houses. of squatters.

As the Chairman of the Committee on Games and Amusements, Councilor Saludes has involved himself in the fight against immoral shows in Quezon City. He caused the passage of an Ordinance penalizing patrons of live nude shows in Quezon City.

CELLANO . . .

Chief Deputy Assessor
Acting City Assessor
(Oct. 4 1990 to Jan. 2, 1991)

OFFICE OF THE CITY ASSESSOR

CONSTANTINO P. ROSAS
(To assume office in Jan. 1991)

Accomplishment Report for 1990

When City Assessor Apolinario Pavia retired on Oct. 4, 1990, Chief Deputy Assessor Atty. Benjamin M. Kasala took over as Acting City Assessor. He was designated to that position by Mayor Simon.

As of Dec. 31, 1990, the total taxable valuation of real properties in Quezon City had risen to P18,866, 915,630.00 representing an increase of P2,241,441,580.00 over the previous year's (as of December 31, 1989) total taxable valuation of P16,625,474,050.00.

The 1990 total tax valuation of P18,866,915,639.00 is broken down as follows:

From Land consisting of 172,967 parcels	P7,452,929,740.00
From Buildings and Improvements numbering 95,128	10,503,059,070.00
From Machineries	910,926,820.00
	P18,855,915,639.00

For comparative purposes, the break down of the 1989 total total tax valuation of P16,625,474,050.00 is given hereunder:

From Land consisting of 168,868 parcels	P7,363,592,500.00
From Buildings and Improvements numbering 89,911	657,610,790.00
From Machineries	657,610,790.00
	P16,625,474,050.00

The increase of P2,242,441,580.00 was due mostly to the discovery of undeclared taxable real properties as a result of the so-called "carpet" assessment method or tax mapping operations which the Office has been continuously undertaking since several years ago.

The 1990 tax mapping operations, which were undertaken in Bgy. Bagong Silangan, yielded 5,039 undeclared parcels which were subsequently entered in the Tax Map Control Roll, the original of which is being reconstructed to provide a separate working copy in order to save the original from the wear and tear of constant handling.

Atty. Kasala served as Acting City Assessor up to Jan. 2, 1991 when the new City Assessor, Mr. Constantino P. Rosas, formerly of Baguio City, assumed office.

In his report to the Mayor on the accomplishments of the Office during the three-month period of his incumbency as Acting City Assessor, Atty. Kasala stated that out of the total growth value of P2,241,441,580.00 for 1990, P913,542,050.00 was realized during his said three-month incumbency. He stated further that this amount of P913,542,050.00 "at an average rate of levy of .0267, means roughly P24,392,370.00 added to the existing collectible realty taxes."

Other accomplishments cited by Atty. Kasala are:

1) Approval by the RPTA Project Director, Bureau of Local Government Finance, Department of Finance, of the MINUTE II Project with a total project cost of P18,163,445.00 divided into P10,898,067.00 as National Counterpart and P7,265,378.00 as the City Counterpart, designed to improve the records of assessment by the use of the new standardized forms.
2) Approval of the submitted Schedules of Value of Land and the Base Unit Cost of Construction for Buildings, which is expected to bring in the next three years, steady staggered increases of taxable valuation on land amounting to over P100 million collectible revenue each year up to 1993.

CITY GENERAL SERVICES OFFICE

ROLANDO P. MONTIEL
Gen. Services Officer

Accomplishment Report
Ending November 1990

The main function of CGSO is the procurement of supplies, equipment, vehicles and other material needs of the city government. The Office prepares a Procurement Program for the entire year based on supply requirements submitted by the different departments and offices of the city government.

In performing its procurement function, CGSO strives to get the best prices through public bidding although when the need arises it also makes emergency purchases, which are allowed under section 14 of PD 526.

CGSO is also in charge of the repair and maintenance of city-owned vehicles, buildings and other structures and office equipment. For insurance purposes, it has made an ocular inspection and re-evaluated these city-owned vehicles and buildings.

As the office that allocates and records the gasoline/diesoline consumption of city-owned vehicles, CGSO has the responsibility of seeing to it that these vehicles are used efficiently and economically, strictly for official purposes.

CGSO has prepared a program for a Centralized Carpool Operation. For a start, it has put up a temporary shed, good for 10 vehicles.

The Office has also prepared an Energy Conservation Program.

As the office in charge of procurement, CGSO receives and inspects all deliveries made at its stockroom. Being in control in the maintenance and issuance of supplies, it ensures the availability of stocks at any given time although sometimes handicapped by late deliveries.

An important function of CGSO has to do with Records Management. CGSO has drafted Executive Order No. 31 providing for the creation of the Records Management Improvement Committee which shall serve as an advisory body in the formulation of sound records management policies on records creation, maintenance, retention and disposition.

For the installation of a uniform classification system of records of the city government, CGSO has proposed for adoption a Functional Alphabetic Classification System.

A difficult aspect of records management is the determination of what are the records vital for preservation and which may be disposed at the proper time. As guide for this difficult function, CGSO has prepared a Retention and Disposition Schedule which it has recommended for use by the governments of all highly urbanized cities and municipalities of the country.

CGSO has made a study on the micro-filming of vital documents of the city government and submitted a microfilming proposal to the Mayor for funding. It has drated O-Plan for the Centralization of Reproduction Services designed to achieve economy in the purchase and use of reproduction machines.

To enhance the competence of its personnel in the management of records, CGSO conducted on August 6-8, 1990 the first Quezon City wide Records Management Seminar in cooperation with RMIC and the Personnel Office Training Division.

CGSO has prepared a concept paper on the Creation of a City Agency Records Management Office which shall organize, plan and implement the Records Management Program of the city government and serve as an Information Center for all its segments.

CGSO chairs and mans the working group on the administrative reconstitution of city government property titles which is ongoing. In District I, 109 titles have been duly reconstituted, in District II, 187 titles are being reconstituted, in District III, 106 titles are under examination and in District IV, 113 titles have been forwarded to

CITY PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT OFFICE (CPDO)

Arch. GERARDO MAGAT
City Dev. Planning Officer

Accomplishment Report

This Office is headed by Arch. Gerardo G. Magat as City Development Planning Officer. Assistant Head is Tomasito Cruz as Assistant City Development Planning Officer. Magat is concurrently Assistant City Administrator for Operations. The office is staffed by 65 personnel. For CY 1990, it has been allocated P4.5 M.

As its name suggests, CPDO's main function is to prepare feasibility studies and development plans for housing, infrastructure, commercial, industrial, public health, educational, barangay, slum improvement, tourism and cultural and tree planting projects of the city government.

For the period under review (July 1989 to July 1990) the CPDO has the following accomplishments:

HOUSING

Twelve (12) socialized housing sites have been identified:

The initial Payatas Socialized Housing Projects has a site of 5.3 hectares. A feasibility study and preliminary subdivision plan have been completed. Cost estimates for housing units have been made. The documents of the 1,575 raffle awardees have been evaluated and the awardees are being advised on the status of their application. A request for the purchase of a Commitment Line has been submitted to the National Housing and Mortgage Financing Corporation (NHMFC) for a P48 M loan.

At the QC General Hospital and Escopa Housing Projects, the construction of housing units has started. At Escopa, land development is ongoing involving 620 lots. Targeted for construction are 50 units, UNEP (United Nations Environmental Plan) type; 84 units, single family row houses; 23 existing individual construction houses and 463 2-storey, 2-family housing units.

Other housing sites at Payatas are the Javellana, Buenviaje, Hilario and Antonio properties for which a preliminary subdivision plan has been prepared and the TOEEMI property for which a preliminary subdivision plan and financial study and property documentation have been completed.

For Bagong Silangan, feasibility study and property documentation have been completed.

At Sitio Sinagtala, surveying and monumenting of city property is ongoing while the same kinds of activities have been completed for Monte de Piedad.

For Maligaya Park, existing condition plan has been prepared. The subdivision plan for the Caloocan portion has been submitted to the Urban Poor Affairs Office for the Community Mortgage Program.

For Block 17, Bgy. Bungad, Miguel Santos property, and Bgy. Bagong Silangan Roxas property, site documentation and preliminary plans have been deferred.

INFRASTRUCTURE

For the proposed construction of Katipunan Extension, Madya-as Road and widening of Gravel Pit Road which are vital arterial roads for the Payatas housing project, CPDO has identified the property owners affected by the construction; prepared the petition for expropriation; completed development plans and cost estimates.

The plan is waiting for the approval of the budgetary requirements for its implementation.

The other Development Programs for which CPDO is doing the spade work (site documentation, data gathering, preliminary development plans) are for the following:

Construction of Railway which aims to establish an inter-urban rail transport line from San Jose del Monte, Bulacan to Quezon City; Tomas Morato Avenue, Five-Star Hotel, Freeway Shopping Mall, Chinatown, San Bartolome. Republic/ Luzon, Avenue.

NOVALICHES DISTRICT CENTER

ALITO TAN
Executive Officer IV,
Coordinator, Mini City Hall

Accomplishment Report

The Novaliches District Center, more popularly referred to as the Mini City Hall was created in 1982 by virtue of Executive Circular No. 1-82, dated March 29, 1982, issued by the then City Mayor, the Honorable Adelina S. Rodriguez.

MANDATED FUNCTIONS

Basically and in summary, the functions of the Center are simply and clearly defined by the Executive Circular creating the same. Since the start of the present incumbent, he has functioned within the confines of said document, although he has often improvised and/or elaborated on some which he sincerely believed to be related and necessary to the performance of his mandated functions.

The main thrust has always been to unburden the various departments under the Office of the City Mayor, of his defined routinary functions, and to deliver available public services to the public within the territorial jurisdiction of the Center which comprises at least thirteen (13) barangays within the Novaliches District.

So far, the Center has delivered increased services to the public, in spite of its limited facilities, by continuously meeting and liaisoning with the various executive officers concerned based at the main City Hall.

The Center intends to continue its liaison with other major officials of the City Government, to speed up the delivery and performance of various services at the Novaliches District.

ORGANIZATION

The Center has functioned with a minimum of personnel. It is, however, to the credit, of those who have been assigned and detailed with the NDC that they are aware of such inadequacy and have made up for it by complementing and supplementing each other in the performance of their assigned tasks. But this cooperative effort may be rendered naught, if the personnel complement is not increased sufficiently to cope with the needs of the daily influx of new residents attracted by the almost twenty (20) new residential subdivisions in the district, not to mention the various new business establishments opening up in the area.

PROGRAMS

The major on-going program of the NDC centers on the infrastructure requirements of the District pursuant to the City Mayor's mandate.

Because of the vast area available for use by the NDC, it has been proposed that all public service-oriented offices be housed in the District. Thus, recently the Center submitted for study and consideration to the offices concerned the construction of several annexes to existing buildings.

Centralization of these buildings in a contiguous area will not only create an orderly government center, but will cater better and faster to the increasing needs of the residents in the District. As soon as the finances of the city government improves, the Center will propose the establishment of branch offices of vital public-service oriented offices, such as the Office of the Civil Registry, Assessor's Office, Register of Deeds and others. This way, the central offices concerned will be decongested.

ALBERT A. SENO
Bgy. Affairs Officer II

BARANGAY OPERATIONS CENTER

The Center acted on 20,803 communications from the 140 barangays of QC, city government offices, national offices and civic organizations.

Secretarial services were provided for 17 District ABC Meetings, 566,696 documents were reproduced/mimeographed – 48,816 copies for the barangays, 8,947 for the ABC, 72,955 for city government offices and 435,978 for the Center.

Transport support was given to 172 barangay activities, 398 activities of city government offices and other agencies and 2,876 activities of the Center.

410 meetings were monitored: 270 barangay meetings, 49 ABC, 13 Sub-City, 18 general assembly, 26 Breakfast Club, 22 Kapihan sa Alps, and 12 special meetings.

Legal/Consultative assistance was extended to barangay officials and leaders. 305 cases requiring affidavits, court appearances/motions, legal opinions/advices and other legal services were handled by the Center.

Technical assistance was also extended in connection with the preparation of barangay projects/programs/budgets/bonds/communications. Requests for the assistance of the Center's draftsmen and illustrators were attended to. Requested statistics were supplied from the Center's Data Bank. 96 barangays assisted in the physical inventory and turnover of barangay properties pursuant to Executive Order No. 18 of the City Mayor.

To enhance the competence and efficiency of barangay officials in the performance of their duties, the Center continued its Information and Education Program. In collaboration with government/private agencies, seminar-workshops on barangay administration and other relevant subjects were conducted. Memorandum Circulars and Executive Orders of the Mayor, City Ordinances and other informative materials were distributed to the barangays, including two books: "A Guide to Effective Local Legislation" and "Handbook on Financial Procedures."

The Center undertook surveys, studies and researches which were the bases of plans, programs and projects submitted to the Mayor designed to assist him in the supervision of barangay officials and in the implementation of city government programs, projects and activities relative to cleanliness and beautification, peace and order, tax consciousness and collection, infrastructure, public health, cultural and tourism affairs, Balik-Disiplina drive, etc.

Special projects/activities under-taken by the Center were:

1) Mobilization of barangay manpower in connection with the Launching of Citizen Drug Watch, Alay Lakad '89, EDSA Prayer Rally, Mass Blood Letting on Mayor's Birthday, State of the City Address, Inauguration of Dynamic Lighting at the Quezon Memorial Circle and Golden Jubilee Celebration.

3) Study on the proposed redistricting of Quezon City – the pros and cons, legal impediments, and proper procedures. Submitted to the City Council.

4) Study on the proposed creation of new barangays through the subdivision of 103 barangays – legal impediments, mapping, proper procedures. Submitted to the Committee on Barangay Affairs, City Council.

1990 Mid Year Report

Introduction:

The first half of the year 1990 witnessed the continued thrust of the Urban Poor Affairs Office in providing housing for the urban poor of Quezon City. Census activities were continued and the strengthening of depressed community organizations was maintained hand in hand with the housing component of the office. Urban Poor Affairs Office (UPAO) is divided into three groups, namely: Resettlement and Planning, Coordination and Monitoring, and Community Mortgage Program.

Resettlement and Planning Division

This division is directly involved in the selection of beneficiaries for the various on-site development projects of the City as well as in the continuous census of urban poor families in Quezon City.

As of June 30, 1990, some 101,292 urban poor families residing in 74,749 structures had been censused. Table 1 shows the breakdown of the census of squatter families by district.

Table 1. Census of Squatter Families as of June 30, 1990

Coordination and Monitoring Division

The Coordination and Monitoring Division is the group in charge of organizing community organizations and strengthening them. A city-wide alliance of urban poor organizations in Quezon City is assisting the office through constant dialogues and consultations being conducted by the UPAO. Some 184 organizations are members of this city-wide alliance called the Ugnayang Maralita ng Lungsod Quezon (UGMA).

Community Mortgage Program Group

This group is responsible for securing allocations for purchase commitment lines for its varied housing projects amounting to some P200 million.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT BOARD

PROF. EDGARDO D. VIRAY
Chief of Office

Accomplishment Report '90

In early 1990, the EDB was re-organized, as a result of Mr. Emilio Festejo's appointment as Secretary to the Mayor and in order to make it more responsive to the needs of development on the grassroots level. As re-organized, the EDB now functions along the lines of:

1. Business Assistance and Development. The EDB renders assistance to business groups in Quezon City through a non-stop coordinating office that takes care of problems these business groups may have with the City Hall.

2. Micro-Enterprise Development (Livelihood). With a different approach to livelihood projects, the EDB arranges a subcontracting tie-up between established exporters in Quezon City and organized urban poor communities. The livelihood projects usually start with the identification of an exporter willing to subcontract production of export items to groups in urban poor communities.

   To date the EDB has started and maintains livelihood projects, ranging from artificial trees/leaves making, paper flower arrangements, christmas/wall decors, papier mache, rug-making, garments making, etc. for some 12 communities.

3. Consumer Assistance and Protection. This work started primarily as product and price monitoring pursuant to an executive order issued by Mayor Simon. The EDB took charge of the formation of price control enforcement teams composed of personnel from the Inspection and Examination Division, Office of the City Treasurer; the Market Administration Division, Office of the City Administrator; and the Youth Welfare Council, Office of the Mayor. Much of the work was performed in coordination with the Department of Trade & Industry.

4. Cooperatives Education and Development. In so far as the livelihood program is concerned, there is the need to organize the beneficiary communities into small producers cooperatives which can engage in product design, work simplification, and direct export of products.

   Aside from these related functions, the EDB cooperatives education and development program partakes of establishing effective cooperatives in Quezon City, the initiation and administration of an Inter-Lending Program, and the establishment of a Cooperatives Training Facility within the QC Skills Training Center Complex in Bgy. San Bartolome in Novaliches. The EDB further plans an annual congress for Quezon City cooperatives.

5. Research & Publications. All the research requirements of the EDB are supplied by a very small group of researchers. At the same time, they also take charge of putting out all EDB sponsored publications, some of which are the monthly EDB Newsletter, the monthly Price Monitor, the periodic analysis of price trends, various consumer assistance/protection pamphlets, the Q.C. Basic Data '90 and various special reports.

6. Special Efforts. These special efforts are mainly directed at preparing special requirements of the Office of the Mayor, preparatory work for the establishment of the industrial estate, special assistance in the reconstitution of burnt land titles, special relations and assistance in the effective administration of the QC Skills Training Center, particularly as it expands and upgrades its offerings, broadens and deepens its research horizons, and prepares for its eventual role as the industrial University of Quezon City.

LIQUOR LICENSING & REGULATORY BOARD

Accomplishment Report

Mrs. MAY G. DUMLAO
Chairman

I. CREATION

The Liquor Licensing & Regulatory Board (LLRB) was created by Ordinance No. NC 86, S-89. It started to operate officially on September 1, 1989. However, the LLRB actually started to operate on July 1, 1989 by virtue of Executive Order No. 20, S-89, dated July 19, 1989, of the Honorable City Mayor.

II. REGULATORY FUNCTION:

Under Ordinance No. NC, S-89, the primary function of the LLRB is to regulate the sale, serving/dispensing and manufacture of beer, liquor and other intoxicating beverages.

III. LIQUOR PERMITS

In 1989, the LLRB issued a total number of 309 liquor license permits, as follows:

a.	Retailer	108
b.	Wholesaler	4
c.	Wholesaler/Retailer	8
d.	Server/Dispenser	40
e.	Special	49
	TOTAL	309

For the first semester of 1990, the number of liquor license permits issued jumped to 4,007 which is 3,698 more than the 1989 number.

The dramatic increase may be attributed to the strenuous efforts of the LLRB staff, despite limited funds, to maximize the implementation of the liquor ordinance in coordination with and assistance of other city government entities. LLRB personnel were assigned to the field to check establishments dealing on liquor and those found without permits were required to apply for them. Posters and ads on the provisions of the liquor ordinance were posted at strategic and conspicuous places.

IV. INCOME GENERATED

For the 1st semester of 1990, the LLRB brought to the city government coffers the amount of P3,561,312.50 representing the proceeds from liquor permit and license fees, filing fees and special permit fees. The LLRB expects to generate a total income of 10 million pesos (P10,000,000) for 1990.

TRICYCLE REGULATION UNIT

Accomplishment Report
As of December 1990

Atty. MARIANO LALIN
Chief of Office

Objective : To assist the program of the National Government on the legalization of "colorum" tricycles in Quezon City.

On January 7, 1988, the Land Transportation Franchising and Regulatory Board (LTFRB) issued guidelines for the legalization of motorcycles for hire through Memorandum Circular No. 88-0006, which withdrew the authority of cities and municipalities nationwide, particularly the authority to receive and process applications/petitions. In effect, the QC government lost its revenues from tricycle operators.

On February 16, 1989 the LTFRB issued Memorandum Circular No. 89-0002 giving/delegating specific authority relative to zoning, route allocation and planning to all the cities and municipalities in the Metropolitan Area.

Comprehensive Survey of Existing Units in Quezon City.

The Tricycle Regulation Unit was able to disseminate the survey forms for the second and third quarters of 1989 to the different tricycle associations in Quezon City. However, only 30 were able to respond to the Information Campaign. Nevertheless, the Field Officers were able to conduct a survey of the existing units, number of registered units, franchises and registrations in all four (4) districts of Quezon City, as evidenced by the following data.

Tricycle Data Gathered per District as of December 15, 1989:

	RMC*	Units applied for RMC* legalization from 1986-1988	Units applied for MCH* Service from Feb. 16-Dec. 15, 1989
District I	4805	1614	588
District II	3294	2323	841
District III	976	937	588

* RMC – Registered Motorcycle
* MCH Motorcycle Hiring

Other Activities:

(a) The Tricycle Regulation Unit conducted a Search for the Ten (10) Outstanding Tricycle Associations of Quezon City. Awarding ceremony was held on October 10, 1989 in connection with the Golden Jubilee Celebration.

(b) The TRU coordinated with Councilor Jorge L. Banal in conducting a "Tricycle Drivers Seminar" on the topic, "Passenger Relation and Pointers on Safe Driving" held on November 19, 1989 at the Claret School. The Fourth Year Parents Council of Claret School also coordinated.

Atty. JOSE F. ERESTAIN, JR.
City Prosecutor

OFFICE OF CITY PROSECUTOR

Accomplishment Report

This office is headed by City Prosecutor Jose F. Erestain, Jr. He has 90 Assistant Prosecutors under him.

The primary function of this office is to conduct the preliminary investigation to determine whether a crime has been committed and whether probable cause exists that the person charged is guilty of its commission.

In conducting the preliminary investigation, the Prosecutor's role is to uphold the law at all times, to see that justice is done, and to ensure that fairness, impartiality and equity are observed in the disposition of the case.

City Prosecutor Erestain says that "far from the public's perception that the Prosecutor's only interest and obsession is to investigate, prosecute and convict, his finest hour is when a complaint is amicably settled out of court to the reconciliation and mutual satisfaction of the contending parties."

An office internal policy that Erestain has initiated and adopted which has been praised by both law practitioners and litigants is the raffling of cases in his office where he sees to it that no manipulation is done.

For the period under review (June 1989 to July 1990) a total of 11,455 complaints were filed with the City Prosecutor's Office for preliminary investigation. During the same period, 8,172 cases were submitted to the Regional Trial Courts and 5,373 actions to the Municipal Trial Courts. These figures include carry over cases from the first half of 1989 and 1988 unresolved cases.

In the prosecution of these submitted cases, the record of the Trial Prosecutors is as follows:

For the period starting January through June, this year, convictions were obtained in 575 criminal cases or 75.76% compared to acquittals in 184 cases or 24.29%. A total of 1,431 actions were dismissed either for failure of complainants to appear or to their desistance manifested in the open court. As of June 30, 1990, court records show that 15,746 criminal cases are still pending and 4,880 placed on archive.

For the same period (January to June 1990), a total of 1,500 petitions or motions for reinvestigation were filed and were disposed or acted upon as follows: 840 cases were resolved, 760 still pending.

During the period under review, 374 cases or 79.7% against drug pushers, users and their cohorts were filed in court. Only 13 cases or 2.8% of possession of illicit drugs were dismissed while 82 cases or 17.5% are still pending preliminary investigation.

The percentage of drug-related cases which reached the courts rated a high 97% and only less than 3% thereof was dismissed due to lack of merit, insufficient evidence or sloppy police investigation.

With respect to illegal possession of firearms, 164 cases or 77.4% were filed in court; only 4 cases or 1.9% were recommended for dismissal while 44 cases or 29.7% are pending formal investigation.

During the last half of 1989, 13 carnappers or 22% were brought before the bar of justice. This increased to 18 carnappers during the first half of this year. Of the carnapping cases, only 2 cases or 1.9% were recommended for dismissal while 44 cases or 74.6% are undergoing further investigation.

No illegal recruitment complaint were dismissed for the period under review.

As to indecent shows and exposures, 22 cases or 44.9% were filed against bold performers of which 11 cases or 22.4% are pending further investigation while 13 cases or 32.66% were recommended for dismissal due to insufficient evidence.

Other accomplishments during the period under review were: Issuance of 9,272 Certificates of Clearance for employment, retirement, resignation and travel purposes. It takes only 10 minutes for an applicant to get his clearance. A total of 12,398 subpoenas were issued to litigants. Fifty five (55) requests for legal opinion were answered. Out of 3,049 communications received for official action, 2,450 were either answered or referred to the proper office or agency.

The drive for moral rejuvenation launched by City Prosecutor Erestain last year, which earned the commendation of President Cory Aquino herself, continues. Proof of its success was the winning of the "Most Outstanding Employee" award last year by one of the employees of the office, Leoncito A. Talisayon. Another proof: Assistant Prosecutor Gregorio Daproza, Jr. obtained the 1989 award as one of the two most outstanding Prosecutors in the entire country.

Erestain has also given his office a spiritual dimension. Every first Friday of the month, a mass in the office premises is held attended by all Prosecutors, office personnel and even litigants and their lawyers. Daily afternoon prayers (3 o'clock habit) are said in the Administration Office.

The City Prosecutor has expressed the ardent hope that the city government would provide for the computerization of the entire records and recording system of his office. This, he says, is a vital necessity considering the "complexities of present-day manifestations of the criminal justice system" which involves the "systematic verification and recording of criminal complaints, names and numbers of parties involved, nature of the offenses charged, status of each charge in each case, number of convictions, acquittals, dismissals, court-archived cases, faster and accurate issuance of clearances, and other data and information relevant to criminal cases."

PROGRESS REPORT

As of Dec. 1990

QUEZON MEMORIAL CIRCLE DEVELOPMENT CIRCLE OF RECONCILIATION AND PARTNERSHIP

By

Charito L. Planas

President, QC Parks Development Foundation, Inc.

For almost 30 years, the Quezon Memorial Circle had been neglected. . . the wire fence was unpainted and in need of mending. It had become a hang-out for criminal elements. It was no wonder then, why families looking for wholesome re-creation stayed away. (Tina B. Mauricio, STAR-WEEK, October 10, 1989).

The Century Club, an organization of regular habitues of the park informed us of the nagging problems on security, inadequate lights, the disorderly crowd that filled the park, with joggers and runners constantly bumped or disturbed by bikers and motorists, the smoke emission from the vehicles and the vendors plying their wares all over the place.

Today, the late President Quezon himself would be proud of the park that bears his name. Spruced-up, well maintained and lighted, it has turned into a haven, a playground. (Chic Fortich, INQUIRER, August 19, 1989). The Quezon Circle is now a beehive for healthy, wholesome family activities such as for jogging, running, biking, aerobics, etc. Cultural and sports presentations are also featured regularly at the park. Lights have been added and a permanent police detachment is now stationed at a strategic location.

The work of rehabilitating the park began in mid-88 under the able leadership of Ma. Victoria Simon as the first president of the Quezon City Parks Development Foundation, Inc., the implementing arm of the City government to develop and beautify the Circle. Assisting Ms. Simon was Architect Francisco Manos, who prepared the master plan of the Circle as the city's focal point. Then, last February 10, 1989, Mayor Simon sent his emissary Councilor Dante Liban to his erstwhile political opponent, Charito L. Planas. The message. Would she accept the presidency of the foundation? (Chic Fortich, INQUIRER) Significantly, both she and Simon decided to cooperate in the job of greening the Circle, in the month of hearts. By March 8, 1989 she was keeping the ball rolling (Art Dialogo, MANILA TIMES, May 13, 1989)

The development of the Quezon Memorial Circle is a joint effort of the private and public sectors. They are like Siamese twins, useless each without the other. The order of the day in the park is discipline-enforcement of regulations, e.g., bikes are taken from those who violate the NO ENTRY signs, TCTs are issued to vehicles parked in NO PARKING AREAS, etc. As one enters the park he immediately sees how clean and spacious it is. The under takings so far accomplished are:

Completion of the Dynamic Lighting by Philips, the first and only one in the Philippines.

Cemented pathways lined with bermuda grass.

Installation of 21 bas mural reliefs in the Quezon Museum by reowned sculptor Manuel Casas and the fixing and painting of the fence.

Completion of the Liwasang Quezon with a 150-sq.m. stage and 35-meter radius circular plaza with excellent sound and light systems.

Picnic Area; Meriendahan sa Circle; Drinking Fountain and additional Comfort Rooms.

Completion of the Parking Area for 400 vehicles.

Soon to open is a Restaurant with six concessionaires (Kamameshi, Max's, Tropical Hut, Alfonse, Cafe Theresa and Tien Tien Luk Garden), more park lightings and many others.

Near the Quezon Museum is the Living Museum of Philippine Medicinal Plants (Buhay na Museo ng mga Halamang Gamot sa Pilipinas). It is maintained by the Philippine Institute of Alternative Futures in cooperation with the Quezon City Parks Development Foundation, Inc. The Living Museum aims to heighten public awareness of the beneficial effects of medicinal plants, which grow in abundance in the country.

Regular features that are offered free to the public:

a) Aerobics sa Liwasang Quezon — 5 PM Tuesday & Thursday
6 AM Saturday & Sunday

b) Dynamic Lighting — 6:30 PM & 8:00 PM sharp; Saturday & Sunday for 15 minutes only

c) Quezon Museum — open daily from 8 AM to 5 PM

d) Varied cultural presentations for the entertainment of parkgoers

The projects scheduled for completion before the end of the year include the installation of a children's quadrant which will consist mainly of wide open spaces for children to run around with trees to climb and logs for see-saws. There will be provisions for a mini-library, daycare center, children's museum, arts crafts facilities, children's comfort room and motor sensory apparatus. In addition, in the biking area the learners will be separated from the non-beginners to avoid accidents and injuries. Facilities for cycling experts will likewise be provided. Also scheduled is the greening of the Circle to start at the onset of the rainy season and the landscaping of the entire area.

We will also have a place for horticulture, the seedbed of native ornamental and fragrant flowering plants carefully sown, dressed and labeled to bring out their natural attributes. Finally, we will have the lagoon guadrant and many more.

I am deeply privileged to have been asked to serve Quezon City in a private capacity and, in my small way, assist in contributing to the development of the city through its parks. In behalf of the Quezon City Parks Development Foundation, Inc., I wish to extend our most sincere gratitude for the wholehearted cooperation and support extended by the city government and the public.

PRIMER:
HISTORY OF QUEZON CITY

By Ben O. Flores & Dr. Aniceto Q. Lazo

Q. How should the building of a new city start?

A. According to Kublai Khan, the builder of Peking City, it should start with a "beautiful concept."

Q. Did President Manuel L. Quezon have a "beautiful concept" in the founding and building of Quezon City?

A. Yes. It was stated in his message to the National Assembly on September 18, 1939 urging the creation of Quezon City, as follows:

"I dream of a capital city that, politically, shall be the seat of the national government; aesthetically, the show place of the nation _ a place that thousands of people will come to visit as the epitome of the culture and spirit of the country; socially, a dignified concentration of human life, aspirations, endeavors, achievements; economically, as a productive, self-contained community."

Q. But has it not been said that Quezon's original dream of Quezon City was not that of a "capital city" but of a "Workingman's Paradise," where low-income employees and laborers would each have a house and lot of his own and enjoy all the facilities of comfortable, pleasant and gracious living.?

A. True. But when Quezon saw the vastness of the land acquired for the new city and the possibility of further expanding it, he modified and expanded his dream from a mere "Workingman's Paradise" to a "Magnificent Capital City."

Q. How was the land for the new city acquired?

A. On October 14, 1938, Quezon created the People's Homesite and Housing Corporation (PHHC) which purchased 1,572 hectares from the Tuazon Estate in Diliman at P500 per hectare for a total cost of P786,000.00. An additional 493 hectares were bought as a site for the University of the Philippines.

Q. Aside from the vastness of the land acquired and the possibility of expanding it further, what other factor persuaded Quezon to modify and expand his dream from "Workingman's Paradise" to "magnificent capital city."?

A. When he saw that the land acquired consisted of cogonal fields, rice paddies, hills and forests, he remembered that the capital cities of Washington D.C. and Brazilia had been built out of similar terrain. So, why not QC as the "magnificent capital city" of the country.

Q. Did Quezon abandon his "Workingman's Paradise" dream?

A. Of course not. In fact, upon purchase of the land for the new city, Quezon ordered the PHHC to undertake the first low-cost housing project in the country. Known as Barrio Obrero, the project called for the construction of 439 housing units of three types in 180 to 200-square meter lots in a 35-hectare site in what is now known as Kamuning. These housing units were subsequently raffled off to low-salaried government employees who paid for them in installments of as low as P8.05 per month.

Q. Aside from Barrio Obrero, what else did Quezon do to pave the way for the creation of his dream city?

A. He ordered the preparation of a master plan for the new city.

Q. What was this master plan called?

A. It was called the Frost Plan, after Harry T. Frost, architectural adviser of the Commonwealth government, who was aided by former Director of Public Works A.D. Williams and the country's top architect, Juan Arellano.

Q. What was the main feature of the Frost Plan?

A. It laid out a guadrangle bounded by four avenues: East, West, South and North. This guadrangle was to be the heart of the new city with the principal streets extending radially from the center to the city's perimeter. This street pattern resulted in eight rotundas for the city and the 26-hectare Quezon Memorial Circle at the junction of Quezon Avenue, East Avenue, North Avenue, Don Mariano Marcos Avenue and Malaya Avenue.

Q. Were the Barrio Obrero project and the preparation of the Frost Plan undertaken before Quezon's September 18, 1939 message to the National Assembly?

A. Right.

Q. Did the National Assembly respond immediately to Quezon's message?

A. Yes. It was Representative Ramon Mitra, Sr., of Mt. Province, 2nd district, father of the present Speaker of the House, who introduced Bill No. 1206 which was enacted as Commonwealth Act. No. 502 creating Quezon City. It was signed into law by Quezon on October 12, 1939.

Q. Did C.A. No. 502 serve as the Charter of the new city?

A. Yes.

Q. What were its provisions?

A. It defined the boundaries of the city, giving it an area of 7,300 hectares carved out of San Juan. Marikina, Pasig, Montalban (now Rodriguez), San Mateo and Mandaluyong. It stipulated that all officials of the city were to be appointed by the Commonwealth President.

Q. Who were the first officials appointed by Quezon?

A. He first appointed then Director of Public Works A.D. Williams as Vice Mayor and concurrently City Engineer and Don Tomas B. Morato, then Mayor of Calauag, Tayabas (now Quezon) province, as Chief of Police, but even before Morato could assume office, they were replaced by Ponciano A. Bernardo as Vice Mayor and concurrently City Engineer and Captain Sabino de Leon. former Governor of Bataan, as Chief of Police.

The other officials were: Emilio Abello, City Attorney; Pio Pedrosa, City Treasurer; Eusebio Aguilar, City Health Officer: Amado Amador CFI Judge; Perfecto Palacio, Municipal Judge; Jake Rosenthal, City Assessor and for Councilors: Jose Paez, Alejandro Roces and Eusebio Aguilar in a concurrent capacity. Appointed Secretary to the Mayor was Damian Jimenez while Secretary to the Council was A.D. Williams.

Q. Did Quezon not appoint a Mayor along with the above mentioned first city officials?

A. No. He merely assumed the functions of Mayor in his capacity as President and not as Mayor because he could not properly appoint himself Mayor even in a concurrent capacity.

Q. Why?

A. The reason why is given in a news item in The Tribune of October 13, 1939 headed, "Officials of New City Appointed," as follows:

"The Office of the Mayor was purposely left vacant as President Quezon himself decided to assume the functions corresponding to the Mayor, but Malacanang emphasized he will do so as President without the formal appointment of a Mayor as that would place the President under the (anomalous) situation of being under the Secretary of Interior".

Q. So, it is not correct to say that Quezon was the first Mayor of Quezon City?

A. Definitely not.

Q. Who then was the first Mayor of Quezon City?

A. Don Tomas B. Morato, father of the present chairman of the Movie & Television Classification & Review Board, Manuel L. Morato.

Don Tomas was first appointed Acting Mayor by Quezon on October 23, 1939, then as Mayor on November 10, 1939. It was on this day that Quezon signed his appointment paper, which was made retroactive to October 12, 1939.

Q. Where was the first QC Hall.

A. At the corner of E. de los Santos Ave. and Aurora Boulevard — a big wooden building rented from former Congressman Valentin Afable of Zambales.

Q. How did Quezon City look like when Mayor Morato assumed office.

A. It was still a sprawling wilderness almost bare of houses except those at the portions carved out of the municipalities mentioned earlier.

Q. What did Mayor Morato do first?

A. He drove out the criminal elements that infested the wooded portions of the city.

Q. Did he start to implement the Frost Plan?

A. He did. He and his Vice Mayor were both engineers and were, therefore, very much at home in the implementation of the master plan for the urban development of Quezon City but the outbreak of World War II in December 1941 interrupted everything.

Q. What happened to Quezon City during the Japanese occupation?

A. Shortly before the Japanese entered Manila in February 1942, Quezon City was made a part of Greater Manila "for police and government purposes." When Mayor Morato, Vice Mayor Bernardo and Chief of Police de Leon were arrested by the Japanese kempetei in July 1942 and taken to Fort Santiago, Quezon City was divided into two Districts for administrative purposes: 1) Diliman District, under Dr. Florencio Cruz and 2) Balintawak District, under Gregorio V. Felipe, Sr.

Q. When Greater Manila was liberated in February 1945, did Quezon City continue to be a part of it?

A. Yes. Oscar Castelo, an Assistant Fiscal of Manila, was designated Acting Assistant Mayor of Quezon City under Greater Manila Mayor Juan Nolasco. Castelo held office in the house of Quezon at Gilmore Ave. He was replaced on October 1, 1945 by Captain Sabino de Leon who was Chief of Police at the outbreak of the war. The office of the city government was transferred from Quezon's house to South 9th St. On January 1, 1945, de Leon was succeeded by Ponciano A. Bernardo who was the Vice Mayor and City Engineer under Mayor Morato. The City Hall was transferred to the South Market Building in what is now Alejandro Roces, Sr. Ave.

Q What historic event occurred on July 4, 1946?

A. An independent Republic of the Philippines was inaugurated under President Manuel Roxas who created a Capitol Site Special Committee to determine the location of a capital city for the country.

Q. Why was this necessary?

A. Because Manila, devastated by the war, was no longer fit to be the capital of the country.

Q. What site did the Special Committee chose?

A. Out of 16 proposed sites, it chose Quezon City and the wooded Ipo-Novaliches area to the north.

Q. When did Quezon City regain its independent status?

A. On January 2, 1947 by virtue of R.A. No. 42. The previous day, Assistant Mayor of Quezon City Ponciano Bernardo under Mayor Nolasco of Greater Manila, was appointed Mayor of Independent to-be Quezon City. The city's independence was marked by the start of the construction of what used to be the old City Hall in Cubao. It was completed in February 1948 at a cost of P125,130.00.

Q. When was Quezon City made the capital of the country?

A. On July 17, 1948 by virtue of R.A. No. 333 which was signed into law on that date by President Quirino who had succeeded President Roxas upon his sudden death in April 1948.

Q. What were the provisions of R.A. No. 333 aside from declaring Quezon City "capital of the Philippines and the permanent seat of the national government"?

A. It altered the boundaries of Quezon City increasing its area to 15,600 hectares with land sliced from the same surrounding municipalities out of which the city had been originally created in 1939. It also created a Capitol City Planning Commission to prepare and implement another master plan for the systematic, coordinated physical growth and development of the city but, unfortunately, it failed, for one reason or another, to accomplish its task.

Q. When was an annex to the City Hall mentioned earlier constructed?

A. Its construction started in March 1949 and completed January 1950 at a cost of P156,772.48.

Q. Did Mayor Bernardo live to see the completion of this annex?

A. No. He was killed in that infamous ambush of Dona Aurora Quezon's party at Bongabong, Nueva Ecija on April 29, 1949.

Q. Who succeeded him?

A. Undersecretary of the Interior Nicanor A. Roxas who was designated Chief Executive of the city in a concurrent capacity on May 1, 1949 by President Quirino. He served until January 6, 1950 and was succeeded the following day by Ignacio Santos Diaz.

Q. What significant events occurred during the incumbency of Mayor Roxas?

A. On June 18, 1949, R.A. No. 392 changed again the boundaries of Quezon City, reducing its area to 15,539 hectares by reverting the Wack Wack area to Mandaluyong and certain barrios to Marikina. The boundaries were to be revised for the third and last time by R.A. No. 1575 approved on June 16, 1956 reducing further the area of the city to 15,106 hectares. A recheck and resurvey conducted by the Engineering Department, however, found this figure to be incorrect. The correct and present area is 15,359 hectares.

On October 22, 1949, Quezon City was officially inaugurated as the capital of the country. It was marked by the laying of the cornerstone of a proposed National Capitol Building at what was known as Constitution Hills. The construction of the building was subsequently started but beyond a steel skeleton, it was never completed. It was finally demolished to give way to the construction of the Batasan Pambansa Complex.

Q. What significant change in the city government structure occurred under Mayor Diaz?

A. The city charter, C.A. No. 502, was amended by R.A. No. 537 approved by President Quirino on June 16, 1950, increasing the number of Councilors from three to eight. He organized the League of Barrio Lieutenants now Barangay Captains to assist the police in the peace and order drive. Mayor Diaz made Novaliches the industrial zone of the city.

Q. Who succeeded Mayor Diaz and how did it come about?

A. He was succeeded by Norberto S. Amoranto and this was brought about by the national elections of 1953 in which Ramon Magsaysay defeated President Quirino. President Magsaysay appointed Amoranto first as Vice Mayor and concurrently Acting Mayor on January 11, 1954. Then on February 4, his appointment as Mayor was made permanent with Isidro Guevarra as his Vice Mayor.

Q. When were the positions of Mayor, Vice Mayor and Councilors made elective?

A. On June 19, 1959 by virtue of R.A. No. 2259. This act also provided that the vice mayor take over from the mayor the function of presiding officer of the City Council.

Q. Who won in the first election for local officials held in Quezon City in November 1959?

A. For mayor, incumbent appointed Mayor Amoranto against 20 opponents; for vice mayor, former Chief of Police Vicente Novales; for councilors, Anastacio Yabut, Jose Narcelles, Vidal Tan, Victorino Diamonon. Pedro Tuazon, Carlos L. Albert, Conrado Benitez, and Proceso Sebastian.

Q. When was the number of councilors increased from eight to 16?

A. On September 9, 1968 by virtue of R.A. No. 5441, four from each of the four districts into which Quezon City was divided by this R.A. But, then President Marcos did not make any interim appointments, so it was only in the 1971 election that 16 councilors were elected.

Q. How many times was Mayor Amoranto re-elected?

A. Three times: in 1963 with Mariano Sta. Romana as vice mayor: in 1967 with Ismael Mathay, Jr. as vice mayor; and in 1971 with Carlos Albert, opposition candidate, as vice mayor; Elected councilors were: Ronald Kokoritchkin, Presioso R. Perlas, Danilo Roces and Stephen Sarino for the 1st district; Andres V. Genito Jr., Melencio M. Castelo, Eulalio de la Cruz and Emeterio M. Gonzales for the 2nd district; Jose J. Paculdo, Estanislao G. Alinea, Jr. Mario Montenegro and Eduardo T. Paredes for the 3rd district; and Fred Montilla, Honorio M. David, Jesus P. Perlas, Jr. and Jose Vera Perez for the 4th district.

Q. How did the imposition of martial law by President Marcos on September 21, 1972 affect the QC government?

A. It did not bring about any drastic changes in the structural set-up of the QC government and in the standard operating procedures of the different departments and offices. But the power of the Council to create new positions and increase salaries and the power of the Mayor to fill vacant positions were curtailed by Memorandum Circular No. 593 issued by the Office of the President on August 8, 1972. The Department of Local Government and Community Development (DLGCD) was created by Presidential Decree to supervise local governments.

A new position, that of City Attorney, was created by Ordinance No. 9983, S-73 with the approval of Malacanang.

On March 21, 1974, PD No. 421 integrated the QC Police Department, Fire Department and City Jail with the Metropolitan Police Force (MPF) then under Gen. Prospero Olivas. The PD also ordained that 18% of the city's income be given to the MPF.

PD No. 447 issued on June 3, 1974, known as the Fiscal Administrative Code, provided guidelines in the conduct and management of the financial affairs, transactions and operations of cities, provinces, municipalities and barrios.

PD No. 77 brought about some changes in the Law Department, better known as the City Fiscal's Office. The decree provided that the affidavits of the contending parties should suffice as basis for the investigating fiscal to dismiss a case or elevate it to the court. It also decreed that a fiscal decide a case within 10 days after the termination of the preliminary hearing or investigation.

Q. Aside from the PDs cited above, what did Mayor Amoranto do under martial law to reform, revamp or re-structure the city government.

A. Pursuant to Letters of Instruction No. 14 and 14-A, he created a Central Evaluation Committee to pick out the corrupt and incompetent employees who were subsequently purged as "notoriously undesirable".

He also created a Reorganization Commission to re-structure the city government for more efficiency and economy and to bring it closer to the people. A U.P. Technical Panel of so-called management experts was hired to undertake a management and personnel audit of the city government. The Panel's findings and recommendations were rather textbookish and inaccurate in spots, but were nevertheless made the basis for some very slight changes in the city government, such as the creation of the Public Affairs and Information Division later changed to Public Affairs and Information Services Office, under the Office of the Mayor and the reshuffling of certain employees so that those in overstaffed offices were transferred to undermanned offices.

Q. How did the issuance of PD No. 824 on November 7, 1975 creating Metropolitan Manila, and the Metropolitan Manila Commission affect the QC government?

A. Legally, QC lost its juridical personality as a public corporation as created by its charter, C.A. No. 502. It became just a unit under the giant public corporation that the Manila Metropolitan Commission was as created by PD No. 824.

Politically, it lost its autonomy or political independence. It lost its legislative branch, the City Council, which was replaced by the Sangguniang Bayan which had only recommendatory powers. The 16 Councilors became members of the Sangguniang Bayan. The Mayor was also allowed to continue in office but almost all his acts in the exercise of his powers and functions were subject to the approval of the MMC.

Financially, its power and control over its revenues and expenditures was restricted. While the Mayor retained the power to prepare budget proposals, they were subject to the approval of the MMC. Furthermore, the city government lost 38% of its budgeted income – 18% to the Integrated National Police and 20% to the MMC.

Structurally, it was not affected much because of a provision in PD No. 824 which stated that "Until otherwise provided, the government of the four cities and 13 municipalities in Metropolitan Manila shall continue in their present form except as may be inconsistent with this Decree".

Functionally, it was ordained by PD No. 824 "to implement the integration of the common, essential, municipal and public services approved by the MMC as they pertain to their respective local government units."

Q. How long did Mayor Amoranto stay-in office under PD No. 824?

A. He resigned on March 31, 1976 after a regime of exactly 22 years and 27 days reckoned from February 4, 1954 when he was appointed Mayor of Quezon City by President Magsaysay.

Q. What progress did Quezon City make under the 22-year regime of Mayor Amoranto?

A. Tremendous progress. The annual income of the city government rose from P4,315,903.51 in 1954 to P81,031,957.29 in 1975. That tremendous progress was cloquently shown in the big number of school buildings, health centers, public libraries, markets, parks and playgrounds constructed, the many kilometers of asphalted and cemented roads and now very valuable real properties purchased, such as the San Bartolome property in Novaliches, the site for the Amoranto Stadium, Bo. Silangan, and the San Jose Seminary, which became the QC General Hospital.

Amoranto considered the construction of the present City Hall his greatest infrastructure accomplishment. Before fire destroyed the upper eight floors on June 11, 1988 (now presently under renovation) the QC Hall was the biggest, most elegant city hall in the country.

Amoranto, however, didn't think much of infrastructure projects as accomplishments, saying that any mayor can undertake them provided funds are available. He considered as his greatest accomplishment the bloodless way he put to an end the so-called U.P. Diliman "rebellion", February 2-9, 1971, when students barricaded all entrances to the U.P. Campus. Amoranto defied an order of then President Marcos for him to send QC Police forces to subdue the "rebels". By that bold defiance, Amoranto saved their lives. Instead of using force, he boldly crossed the barricades and succeeded in persuading the students to remove them and end the "rebellion".

Q. Who replaced Mayor Amoranto?

A. Mayor Adelina S. Rodriguez. She was immediately appointed upon the resignation of Amoranto. She assumed office on April 1, 1976. In the January 30, 1980 elections for local officials, the first to be held under martial law, Mayor Rodriguez won overwhelmingly against several opponents led by the late Rafael Mison, a former QC Councilor.

Elected with Rodriguez as vice mayor was Stephen Sarino. The position of vice mayor had been abolished when the term of the Vice Mayor who was elected in the 1971 elections for local officials expired on December 31, 1975. It was revived in the January 30, 1980 elections.

Q. What progress did Quezon City make under Mayor Rodriguez?

A. Considerable progress was made. Income of the city government went up from P109,000,000 in 1976 to P509,441,936.36 in 1985. She brought the city government closer to the people with her "Palagiang Paglingap sa mga Mamamayan" program. She adopted the Comprehensive Development Program for Quezon City which was finally completed after years of preparation dating back to Mayor Amoranto's time by the City Planning and Development Office. Mayor Rodriguez made it a policy that all programs, projects, and activities of the city government must conform to the Program she had adopted. The delivery of public services was geared to meet all the basic needs of man listed by then MMC Governor Imelda Marcos – food, clothing, shelter, livelihood, water, power, mobility, health, education and culture, ecological balance, sports and recreation to which Rodriguez added a 12th basic need: Security. She was also responsible for the construction of the main building of the City Library to the delight of thousands of people who love to read.

Q. Who replaced Mayor Rodriguez and how was it brought about?

A. She was replaced by Mr. Brigido R. Simon, Jr. in April, 1986. This was brought about by the EDSA revolution of February 22-25, 1986. With the flight of the Marcoses, and the installation of President Corazon C. Aquino, a revolutionary government was established. Local elected officials of all towns, cities and provinces of the country had to give way to the new order. Simon took over from Mayor Rodriguez as Officer-in-Charge of the city government on April 14, 1986.

Q. How did the New Constitution of the revolutionary government which was ratified overwhelmingly in the February 2, 1987 plebiscite affect the city government?

A. It paved the way for the resurrection of the City Council after 12 years in limbo with the provision calling for local elections on January 18, 1988 and increasing the number of Councilors in Quezon City from 16 to 24 six from each of the four districts, plus three sectoral representatives, one for the Association of Barangay Captains, another for the youth and a third for the labor-industrial sector.

Q. Who came out in the January 18, 1988 elections?

A. OIC Simon, who had resigned in December 1987 to run for Mayor, won against mayoralty candidate lawyer Charito Planas, although the two have already come to a rapproachment after Planas accepted Mayor Simon's offer for her to head the Parks Development Foundation which has a P25 million funding for the development of the QC Memorial Circle. Actor Vicente "Tito" Sotto III ran roughshod over his opponents in the vice mayoralty race. (As to the elected Councilors and the appointed sectoral representatives, they are featured in some other pages of this publication.)

Q. What changes in the city government have been instituted under Mayor Simon?

A. Some new offices, boards and task forces have been created: Urban Poor Affairs Office, Public Assistance and Legal Office, Economic Development Board, Liquor Licensing and Regulatory Board, Kaunlaran Task Force, Task Force for Socialized Housing, Task Force for Recovery of City Properties, Roads and/or Open Spaces, Task Force on Hidden Machineries and Task Force on Industrial Relations.

Some new positions have been created: Finance Coordinator, Legislative Performance Officer, three Assistant City Administrators and two Assistant Secretaries to the Mayor.

The City Council has passed an Ordinance creating four departments: Department of Public Safety, Department of Barangay Affairs, Department of Parks Development and Administration and Social Services Development Department.

But, the most significant–and controversial–change that has been instituted is the appointment of the elected Councilors as Deputy Mayors of the 24 Sub-Cities into which the city has been divided by Ordinance No. 110 S-89, September 14, 1989. One Councilor, however, Alicia Herrera, refused to accept the appointment.

Q. Who served as interim OIC of QC after OIC Simon had resigned in December 1987 to run for mayor?

A. First, it was Sonny Bernardo, son of the former Mayor Ponciano Bernardo. He was followed by OIC Vice Mayor Elmer Pormento who gave way after some time to Leoncio De Perio

Q. What progress has Quezon City made under Mayor Simon?

A. Despite adverse economic, political and peace and order conditions, the city has continued to make significant progress. The income of the city government increased from P520,016,025.83 in 1986 to P1.3 billion this year, 1990.

A. Yes. It will be continued in next year's issue of this publication when, it is hoped, concrete, positive and complete results of the above programs will be given.
