An EDB Research Product

The EDB Vision

The vision of EDB is essentially to enhance development on the grassroots level. That is why its main areas of concern are livelihood projects, consumer protection and assistance and cooperatives education and development

The EDB comprehensive livelihood program recognizes the reality that the most logical entree to ensure continuing economic activity is through sub-contracting. The program does not end with skills training, however, there is continuing education on cooperatives formation, value inculcation, and entrepreneural development. There is, therefore, the sustained attempt to give the people the opportunity for work and income and impress upon them the need for work discipline and ethos, continuing education so that they can keep improving themselves and attain self-confidence, and the chance to go into a business of their own the cooperative way. In the end, therefore, subcontracting will be terminated and the people themselves, through their cooperatives, will be the exporter of product lines that they may have created. The EDB is obligated to assist the people to attain this level of economic independence.

The EDB consumer assitance and protection function is an offshoot of the Product Monitoring Committee (PMC) created by Mayor Simon through an executive order and designating the head of EDB as the committee chairman. In the regular meetings of the PMC, it became the consensus that cooperatives should be the best vehicle for price stabilization. The PMC then decided to make a survey of cooperatives in Q.C., particularly in the public and private markets, find out their status, and

Preface

This Quezon City Basic Data handbook is one of the initial research undertakings of the Economic Development Board, Office of the Mayor. It is an attempt to put together all available data on Quezon City from various sources, notably the National Statistics Office, the National Economic and Development Authority, various offices and departments of the city government and non-governmental organizations.

This undertaking was made possible through the efforts of Ricardo Ortiz and Gerard Pacis, Josephine Orda, Teresita Medina, Jin Celaje and Evelyn Soriano, all of the EDB Research and Publications Unit.

It is hoped that this handbook will serve urban planners, infra-structure builders, manpower and education planners, sociologists, political leaders, etc. in their work pertinent to the development of Quezon City. Students may likewise find in this handbook the necessary benchmark research they may need in the preparation of term papers and theses. At the same time, the basic data compiled in this handbook may prove useful in justifying position papers needed in supporting or opposing pertinent legislation.

Chapter I

Physiography and Related Characteristics

Historical Background

The late President Manuel L. Quezon envisioned a place where the common man will find his place with dignity. He dreamed of a seat for a national government, "aesthetically the showplace of the nation."

In 1939, he purchased 1,529 hectares from the vast Diliman Estate of the Tuazon family.

Commonwealth Act No. 502, known as the Charter of Quezon City, was enacted by the National Assembly in September 1939. On 12 October 1939, President Quezon signed the Bill into law, thus Quezon City was born.

Quezon City officially became the capital of the Philippines by virtue of R.A. No. 333 which was signed on July 17, 1948. Inauguration took place on October 22, 1949 marked by the laying of a cornerstone for a capitol building at Constitution Hill.

Quezon City lost its title as the Capital City of the country to Manila by virtue of Presidential Decree No. 940 dated June 24, 1976.

Business Environment

Land

Quezon City is the biggest of the four cities of the metropolis. It is bounded by Caloocan City and San Jose del Monte on the North, San Mateo and Marikina on the East, San Juan and Manila on the West, and Pasig and Mandaluyong on the South.

Of the total land area of 15,359 hectares, 11,750 hectares or 76.5% of the total land area is already developed.

Landmarks

Amoranto Stadium The stadium, inaugurated in 1966 and named after Mayor Amoranto consists of a grandstand, and eight-lane track and field oval, bleachers, and a gymnasium constructed on 5.8 hectares land along Roces Avenue. The complex was built at a cost of P2 million and has been used for national and local athletic events.

Araneta Coliseum Recognized as the world's biggest domed coliseum with a seating capacity of 36,000, it has hosted special events like the Ali-Frazer title fight in October 1975, the Holiday on Ice and Miss Asia Quest.

Lung Center of the Philippines Located along Quezon Avenue, it was inaugurated on January 23, 1982. The hospital provides special care for lung disease.

National Kidney Institute (Formerly National Kidney Foundation of the Phil.) Inaugurated on January 16, 1981 and became the National Kidney Institute on November 1986, the hospital houses modern equipment and facilities for kidney and pancreas transplants. It is also located along East Avenue near the Lung Center of the Philippines.

Ninoy Aquino Park Formerly Parks and Wildlife, the park was constructed on July 5, 1954 in an 80-hectare woodland best for family gatherings complete with a children's playground and man-made lagoon for boating. The park boasts of its various specimen of the country's fauna and flora with its famous monkey-eating eagle. On March 1986, the government named the park after the late Senator Benigno S. Aquino.

Philippine Children's Medical Center Formerly Lungsod ng Kabataan Children's Hospital, the center was established on April 20, 1982. It exudes the atmosphere of a playground or a romping room. Storybooks and cartoon character are splashed in attractive colors in murals that fill the walls of corridors or wards.

Philippine Heart Center for Asia Located along East Avenue, it was inaugurated on Febuary 7, 1972. The hospital has the latest facilities, equipment and techniques for heart treatment. It also serves as venue for the periodic meeting of heart specialists from all over the world to exchange information on cardiac vascular developments.

Quezon City Hall Built in 1964, the 14-storey edifice was designed by Ruperto Gaite and constructed by Weldon Construction under the supervision of the QC Engineer's Office. It was inaugurated on January 1, 1972. On August 3, 1972, the 1971 Constitutional Convention transferred office from Manila Hotel to the top three floors of QC Hall. Its grounds includes the Sunken Garden, a man-made lagoon and orchidarium. In the year 1982, a one-half hour fire gutted the 3-storey left wing of QC Hall destroying properties worth P10 million. On June 11, 1988, another fire razed the QC Hall building, from 7th to 14th floors, causing property damages estimated at P240 million.

Quezon Memorial Circle A twenty-six hectare land dedicated to the 1st Philippine Commonwealth President after independence, the Circle is dominated by the towering tri-pillared Quezon Monument and Quezon's mausoleum with underground chambers housing the Quezon City Museum and Art Gallery.

Radio Veritas Found at Fairview Park, it is run by the Philippine Catholic hierarchy and equipped with powerful transmitters that enables them to broadcast news all over the world.

San Pedro Bautista Church It is the second oldest church in the country, built in 1699 and undergone renovation in 1932. It is located in San Francisco del Monte. The church was named after Father Pedro Bautista who was canonized and buried inside. Parts of the old altar still exist.

Atomic Reactor This was built on July 16, 1958 along Don Mariano Marcos Avenue. With an egg-shape structure, it is the only kind in the country which signifies Philippine involvement in the atomic age.

Ali Mall II A part of Araneta Center, it houses various department stores selling local and imported items which became an instant hit to city shoppers.

Batasang Pambansa Now the seat of government, the building, which was completely finished on March 1978, stands on Constitution Hills with its breathtaking backdrop of mountains and valleys.

Central Bank of the Phil The complex, composed of five interconnected buildings, has an approximate floor area of 62,210 sq.m. built along East Avenue with a total land area of 57,300 sq.m. The Security Plant Complex consists of the Security Printing Plant, Mint and Gold Refinery, and Office of the General Services. It was inaugurated on September 7, 1978.

Cloverleaf Market Located in Balintawak, the gateway to Metro Manila from the north, the cloverleaf or the Balintawak Transmission Complex was believed to be the site of the "First Cry of Balintawak," the celebrated Bonifacio Monument which had been at the UP Campus until its origin was traced to Pugad Lawin.

Farmer's Market One of the biggest markets in the city found within the vicinity of Araneta Center, it was closed after the fire in 1986 for reconstruction. It reopened in 1989 with new facilities including two theaters and a food plaza.

Fiesta Carnival It is also located at Araneta Center, known for its wide variety of recreational facilities.

La Mesa Dam A major source of water supply for Metro Manila, it was built in Novaliches surrounded with woods ideal for picnickers and campers.

Santo Domingo Church Along Quezon Avenue - It is one of the biggest and oldest churches in the country. It enshrines the famous Our Lady of the Holy Rosary whose feast is inOctober 12. From the University of Santo Tomas, it was transferred to Quezon City at a total cost of P3 million. Mayor Amoranto inaugurated the church on October 10, 1954.

University of the Philippines Diliman - Seating on a 493-hectare land, the campus was opened in 1948 and has become one of Asia's leading institutions for its educational standards.

Welcome Arch Better known as "Welcome Rotonda", the gateway to Quezon City from Manila, it was designed in 1948 by Architect Luciano V. Aquino from the office of Mayor Ponciano Bernardo. The total cost of construction was P25,000. The miniature lions at its base was donated by the Lions Club of Quezon City.

Chapter IV

Labor Situation

Unemployment and underemployment remain as two of the most serious problems in the country today even in Quezon City alone. Statistics reveal that a large segment of the city's labor force are not well prepared for the skilled and semi-skilled employment.

Quezon City Labor Force, consisting of persons who are 15 years old and over and are willing to work, is 544,919 or 59.93%. Of the total number of labor force, 470,810 (51.78%) are employed and 74,109 (8.15%) are unemployed. Number of persons not in the labor force is 364,341. (NSO Labor Force Survey, 1985).

The 1989 Labor Force Survey (LFS) shows an increase of 458,081 in the labor force of Quezon City now totalling to 1,003,000. Of the labor force, 513,000 are employed, 92,000 are unemployed, and 398,000 are not in the labor force.

Chapter V

Education

Quezon City is the seat of the academe in the country. The University of the Philippines, the finest in the far east and the country's Nuclear Research Institute is in Diliman.

According to 1990 statistics, there are 146 and 1 annex public elementary schools and 101 private elementary schools. Thirty four (34) public and 49 private secondary schools are strategically located in the different districts of Quezon City. There are 55 technical and vocational schools and 47 colleges and universities to meet the educational demands of the city's school age populace.

The presence of these schools, however, will not solve the unemployment problems because a large sector of the labor force is unprepared for skilled and semi-skilled employment. The government, in order to meet the objectives of the educational system to train manpower in the middle level skills, opened the Q.C. Skills Training Center in San Bartolome, Quezon City.

Chapter VI

Health and Welfare

Health awareness among the residents of Q.C. is important in the decline of mortality rates. Pneumonia and Tuberculosis still rank as the major causes of mortality as against morbidity.

The Q.C. Health Department, under the supervision of the QC Government, extends its services to city residents through hospitals and health centers strategically located in various areas in Quezon City.

Chapter VII

Peace and Order

Among others, the vital concern of the City Government is the continuing offensive drive against crime and the sources of crime. In his city address in 1988, Mayor Simon stressed that the people should be reassured of the capability of the police to protect their lives and properties.

In view of this assurance, the City Council appropriated P9.8 million for the purchase of 30 additional mobile patrol cars. An additional P11.5 million was alloted for the purchase of 600 pistols and 100 shotguns. Fund and financial assistance for the police aides and other operating expenses are "beefed up."

The drive against crime and their sources although its gain is perceptible, there are still a lot to be done. The City Government are still purchasing additonal mobile patrol cars, creating new police substations, putting up lights in all dark and crime-prone areas among others to make city residents feel more safe and secure.

Chapter IX

Cooperatives, Non-Governmental Offices and Non-Governmental Foundations

Historical Background

The government's role, initiative and efforts to introduce cooperatives in the Philippines is part of the development program to uplift the standards of living of the people, principally the low income sector. P.D. 175 was enacted in April 1973, to strengthen the cooperative movement. The Bureau of Cooperative Development (BCOD) was organized as a regulatory agency responsible in initiating, promoting, organizing and developing cooperatives. P.D. 175 was amended by P.D. 269 in 1974 when the electric cooperatives sector seeks exemption from the regulatory power of BCOD. P.D. 175 was again amended by P.D. 775 on August 25, 1975 which mandated the development of sugar planters and/or producers cooperatives by the Philippine Sugar Commission (Philsucom) and creating the Sugar Cooperative Development Institute of the Philippines (SCDIP).

The fragmentation was further enhanced when P.D. 175 was again amended by Executive Order No. 898 establishing the Office of Transport Cooperatives under the Ministry of Transportation and Communication.

The subsequent amendments of these Cooperative laws weakened the movement instead of strengthening it.

Last March 10, 1990, President Aquino signed two pieces of legislations on cooperatives: R.A. 6938, "An Act Ordaining a Cooperative Code of the Philippines" and R.A. 6939, "An Act Creating the Cooperative Development Authority." With these two legislations, it is hoped that the cooperative movement in the Philippines will be revived, united and be active, so that we will have a "society where all sectors of the economy operate according to the rules, methods, and aims of the Cooperative Philosophy."

Hopefully with these two legislations, the cooperative movement in Quezon City will no longer be fragmented but instead these will serve as an inspiration for those low income sector to organize new cooperatives and activate those cooperatives that are not active anymore.

Resource Agencies for Philippine NGOs

What is PHILDHRRA?

PHILDHRRA is a board of partnership of development oriented, non-governmental organizations (NGOs) who recognize the need to come together for dialogue and mutual assistance. It started in 1983 as a loose association of 20 NGOS who had the opportunity to work on a common project involving the rural communities. Through the experience of working together, these NGOS affirmed the need for a formal network, which is PHILDHRRA today. It was officially registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) as a non-profit, non-stock foundation in 1984.

As of 1987, PHILDHRRA has 46 member NGOS involved in a wide range of development activities such as appropriate technology, community organizing, education and training of grassroot leaders, agricultural extension, primary health care and income-generating projects.

PHILDHRRA is non-denominational, non-ideological and non-sectarian. It welcomes those who wish to share in its partnership.

GLOSSARY

A. Health

1. ISCHEMA — is a decreased blood supply to particular part of the body. It is caused by a spasm or a disease in the blood vessels. This may result in leg cramps, angina pectoris if it affects the heart or Transient Ischemia (TIA) if it affects the brain.

2. SEPTICEMIA — is sepsis occurring in the blood sometimes called blood poisoning.

3. SEPSIS — is the presence in the body or bloodstream of disease-producing microorganisms such as bacteria or virus.

4. TOXEMIA — is a type of blood poisoning caused by toxins (metabolized poisons), especially toxins produced by pathogenic bacteria that enter the bloodstream from a local lesion and are distributed throughout the body.

5. PNEUMONIA — is the inflammation of the lungs, usually caused by a bacteria, viral, or fungal infection or from inhaled matter.

6. BRONCHITIS — is an inflammation of the bronchi, the air passages to the lungs.

B. Labor

1. UNEMPLOYED PERSONS — consists of all persons, 15 years old and over as of last birthday who did not work or had no job during the reference period and are reported wanting and looking for work. Also included are persons wanting full-time/part-time work but not looking for work because of the belief that no work is available or because of temporary illness, bad weather, or other valid reasons.

2. EMPLOYED PERSONS — who are at the age of 15 and over who work and earn wages/salaries for the reference period.

3. LABOR FORCE PARTICIPATION RATE (LFPR) — ratio of the total labor force (economically active, 15 years old and over) to the total population, 15 years and over.

4. EMPLOYMENT RATE — proportion of fully and partially employed persons to the total labor force.

5. UNEMPLOYMENT RATE — proportion of persons totally unemployed to the total labor force.

As a result of the maintenance of an effective liaison with the Filipino-Chinese business community, a trust fund has been created for the construction of artesian wells in urban poor communities where potable water is a problem. At the same time, a memorandum of agreement has been signed among the city government, the Tarlac livelihood cooperative, and the Bigas Biyaya Foundation to ensure the supply of high-quality but affordable rice to Q.C. urban poor communities through their cooperatives. There are, therefore, at the moment two entry points for cooperatives at the grassroots level: rice and water
