A NEW Hall of Justice that can accommodate 52 court branches was inaugurated in Quezon City on Wednesday. In a statement, the Supreme Court said the building also has an “integrated data infrastructure for management of eCourts and rooms with video link equipment for family court hearings” as well as business center, day care center, library, office for the Philippine Judges Association, and a Department of Justice waiting area. The inauguration and blessing ceremony of the Quezon City Hall of Justice Annex was led by Chief Justice Lucas P. Bersamin and Quezon City Mayor Herbert M. Bautista. Also present were QC Regional Trial Court Executive Judge Cecilyn E. Burgos Villavert and Court Administrator Jose Midas P. Marquez, among others. —
