THE Quezon City Council passed a resolution urging the Department of Transportation (DoTr) to link the Metro Rail Transit 7-Fairview station to a mixed-use building for the safety and convenience of commuters. A mixed-use building combines three or more structures such as residential, retail, transportation terminal, or parking into one building. City Resolution 7874-2019, introduced by Councilor Marvin Rillo, urges the construction of a covered walkway linking the MRT 7 station in Fairview that is currently under construction to a 33-story commercial and residential building that is also being built in the area. The resolution says the proposed walkway should be shouldered by the building developer, RYS-Sons Holdings and Development Corp. “The linking or connecting of the said MRT 7 Station to the said mixed-use building will not entail any cost to the government since it is the RYS-Sons Holdings and Development Corp., which will undertake the necessary construction and will shoulder the needed expenses,” the resolution explains.
