The Quezon City government has intensified its campaign against the coronavirus to protect its residents against its new variants.

The city's 142 barangays have been instructed to monitor their constituents who are returning from abroad for possible symptoms of Covid-19.

The local government will also secure from all hotels and accommodation establishments in the city that are being used as quarantine facilities a list of guests who are QC residents. A similar request will be sent to the Bureau of Quarantine, particularly for those who are returning from abroad.
