QUEZON City Mayor Joy Belmonte has spearheaded the inauguration of four modern and first-class facilities at the Amoranto Sports Complex to accommodate local and international sporting events.

“I promised a modernized Amoranto Sports Complex. We are proud that this is not just a sports facility,” Belmonte said.

“Now, we want our city to level up not only known for our advocacies we are fighting for, but to be known also as having the first-class facilities,” the mayor added.

Belmonte was joined by other city officials government and representatives from the Department of Public Works and Highways.

She said the Amoranto Sports Arena can accommodate 3,500 people.

The new facilities also included an Olympicsize swimming pool with 10 lanes that can be used also for local and international swimming meets.
