FERDINAND E. MARCOS
President of the Philippines

MESSAGE

It is my pleasure to greet the officers and men of the Quezon City Police Department on your 34th Foundation Day.

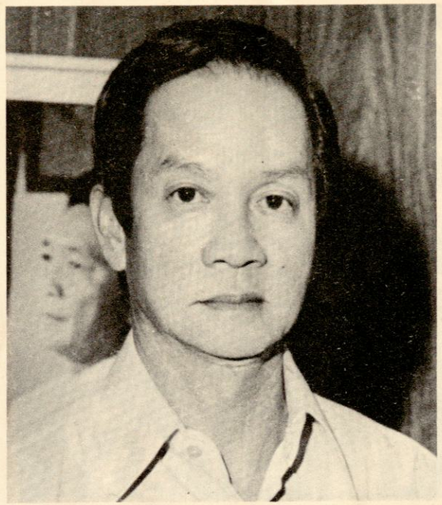

As you reaffirm your commitment to the preservation of peace, justice and progress in our communities, it is meet and timely to intensify your awareness of the dangers that tend to impede the law enforcer in his primary responsibility of carrying out the laws designed for the welfare of our people.

One of these dangers is the tendency to backslide, to retrogress to the corrupt and inefficient ways of the past.

We in the national leadership have sought to arrest this tendency to backslide among our law enforcers by implementing a mailed-fist policy against the few whose misdeeds may destroy the trust reposed by our people upon the law enforcer. We know only too well that the image of the law enforcer as a protector of the people will be enhanced only to the extent that the law enforcer himself strives to be faithful to his duty.

I am therefore confident that the officers and men of the QCPD will remain true to the noble task of continuing the tradition of responsive law enforcement by remaining true to the ideals which the law enforcer stands for: courage, loyalty, integrity and devotion to duty.

JUAN PONCE ENRILE
Secretary of National Defense

MESSAGE

I would like to greet the officers and men of the Quezon City Police Department on the occasion of their organization's 34th Foundation Anniversary this November 23.

It is heartening to know that you intend to observe your anniversary with utmost simplicity in consonance with the avowed reforms within the concept of our New Society. Despite the absence of pomp and fanfare, however, I wish that your anniversary celebration will be just as significantly appropriate and successful.

As fellow workers in local government, we in the Department of Local Government and Community Development (DLGCD) look forward to seeing you help us implement our various and local government administration by insuring peace and order, the prerequisite for all developmental efforts.

With reforms you have initiated, there is no doubt that your Capitol City will continue to further enjoy the services of a revitalized police force — and subsequently one of the finest in this part of the world.

JOSE A. ROÑO
DLGCD Secretary

MESSAGE

It gives me great pleasure to extend my sincerest best wishes to the officers and men of the Quezon City Police Department on the occasion of its 34th Foundation Day.

In the long history of Quezon City, we find that the QCPD has always remained at the forefront in the fight against crime. Its history is replete with spectacular achievements in the endorcement of law and in the maintenance of order. But these accomplishments were all made possible through the dedication and unflagging service of individual policemen. Many have died in line of duty and many more will lay down their lives to bring security and peace to our citizens. To those who journeyed into the long night, their passing have not been in vain; they died in the service of their country and people.

As we move forward in the attainment of a better and improved society, it is but fitting and necessary that we in the police service should redouble our efforts and seek out more accomplishments. Let us do more and better service to our people. For nothing less than the establishment of a serene, peaceful and orderly community is the signal goal of any police force. Let nothing bar or deter us from attaining this objective. Should there be a need of change in personal habits and outlook then let there be so. The new social order we are trying to establish in our country certainly is a change for the better and calls for the personal sacrifices of all.

FIDEL V. RAMOS
Brigadier General, AFP
Chief of Constabulary

MESSAGE

The 34th Foundation Anniversary of the Quezon City Police Department gives me an opportunity to greet and congratulate its officers and members on an important occasion in the history of their organization.

The Quezon City Police Department is a vital public service arm of the Quezon City government. Charged with the delicate mission and responsibility of law enforcement and the maintenance of peace and order in our City, its citizens look up to our local police force for protection against criminality, and assaults against life and property that are bound to arise in our society and in a growing metropolis. The Quezon City Police Department should, therefore, be able to measure up to the expectations of its citizenry and the satisfactory performance of the duties it has sworn to uphold. As it reviews its guiding objectives and functions as the police agency of this City, as it recalls to mind its memories as an organization, its successes and its failures throughout the thirty-four years of its existence, its anniversary should be an occasion for a reexamination of how effective it has been in its mission. It must reassess its strength and weaknesses as an organization and resolve once more to protect and safeguard the community in the best traditions of public service and in conformity with the norm of conduct and reforms under the New Society.

Given the support and cooperation of a responsible and vigilant citizenry, it is my sincere hope that our local police force shall be able to maintain a high level of efficiency and effectiveness as a police agency.

N. S. AMORANTO
City Mayor

MESSAGE

Greeting the Police Department as it celebrates its Foundation Day is always a source of pleasure for me. This is so because I believe that law-enforcement is the most basic of all government functions.

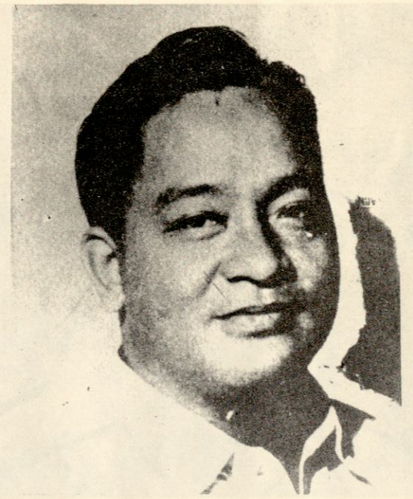

This year's celebration, however, is different from that of the past years. This unusual disgression is brought about by the fact that the Police Department is enjoying nowadays the residents' trust and confidence — to an extent very much higher than the past few years.

I venture to say that these trust and confidence in the police have been the result of the many innovative changes the QCPD has instituted in its rank and file since the advent of the New Society. The end result of all these is a more orderly and peaceful city.

While I congratulate the police for the new image it has earned, I am also availing myself of this opportunity to say: "Carry on with the good job".

My sincerest congratulations to every officer and member of the Police Department.

Vice-Mayor

MESSAGE

Quezon City celebrates the 34th Foundation Day of the Quezon City Police Department this year, thus this Souvenir Program where I was given the honor to greet the officers and members of our City Police force.

Lately, I have noted a new accent and wider scope in the projects and activities of the QCPD, no doubt because the times have posed new challenges which the department, headed by Colonel Tomas B. Kariñgal is ably striving to meet.

Indeed, as we mark the 34th anniversary of the QCPD, it behooves upon the officers and members of the City's police force to ponder the significance of the changes and reforms taking place in our society and to inculcate in their hearts and minds a compelling sense of public duty in discharging their assigned task of maintaining peace and order, for in only so doing may they help in the consolidation of the national gains thus far attained under the New Society.

It is my hope that the Quezon City Police Department will to that end continuously dedicate itself and thus attain the ultimate purpose for which it was established and substantially contribute to the betterment of our citizenry.

EULALIO L. DELA CRUZ
2nd District, Quezon City
Vice Chairman
Committee on Police Affairs

MESSAGE

In behalf of the officers and men of the PC Metropolitan Command, I congratulate the Quezon City Police Department which today marks the 34th Foundation Day.

Your contribution to the gains achieved by the New Society in the field of peace and order should spur you to greater achievements rather than a laurel to rest upon. Let your foundation day serve as a milestone in every stride you take and in the reappraisal and assessment of what is to be done.

I must emphasize that in the exercise of our authority, we must always remember that our people must receive the quality of law-enforcement service that they deserve. Our zeal coupled with devotion to duty will surely get the approval not only of the residents of Quezon City but of every citizen of our country.

Again, congratulations and carry on.

ALFREDO R. MONTOYA
Brigadier General, AFP
Commanding

MESSAGE

The officers and men of the PC Metropolitan Command join me in greeting you on the occasion of your 34th Foundation Day.

I am aware of your fine performance in pursuing the early realization of our basic objectives under the New Society. The zeal and devotion to duty as well as the sacrifices displayed by you in considerably reducing lawlessness and criminality deserve special commendation.

As we continue working together, I hope that your police department and the PC Metropolitan Command will set the example in the field of cooperation and devotion to duty to all the police forces of the country.

I wish all of you luck and continued success.

PROSPERO A. OLIVAS
Brigadier General, AFP
Commanding

MESSAGE

As the Quezon City Police Force celebrates its 34th Foundation Anniversary, I take this as an occasion to rededicate ourselves to the lofty traditions of our noble profession and thus live up to high expectations of our citizenry.

I also take this occasion as a timely event to reassess our performance in the face of the nationwide attention being focused on the peace and order problems of our country today, which seeks to underscore the services of policemen especially those who have not succeeded in giving our people the maximum service they deserve under the NEW SOCIETY.

This occasion should as well prod us on to continue our unwavering effort and unstinted support for the program of reforms instituted for a better new society through selfless dedication to duty and high sense of involvement to public service, so that, the diminishing faith of the people in our policemen would be fully restored.

My warmest greetings and gratitude to all for contributing to the success of this celebration.

TOMAS B. KARIÑGAL
Colonel PC (Ret.)
Chief of Police

MESSAGE

I consider it a great pleasure to be accorded this opportunity to extend greetings to the officers and members of the QUEZON CITY POLICE DEPARTMENT on the occasion of its 34th Foundation Anniversary. My feelings are more profound because of the significance in the relationship between Lions International and Quezon City — Quezon City is the official seat of Philippine Lionism.

On several occasions during the past twenty five years, the Quezon City Police have been active participants in the various community projects and humanitarian acts undertaken by the different Lions Clubs in this jurisdiction. On all these occasions, we are gratified over the dedication and devotion to service manifested by your men.

The emergence of our New Society has brought about rising demands of our more dynamic society. Focused against the backdrop of your past records and performances, we the Lions, entertain no doubt that your officers and men will adequately meet the challenges of the times.

QCPD IN REVIEW

by:

Cpl. OSCAR P. ABAYA
Pat. CATALINO P. CANTOS, JR.

Brief History

A one-man police department? That was how the Quezon City Police Department started in the pre-war era. The Chief of Police was himself the subordinate and reported direct to the city mayor. And believe it or not, the Chief of Police was also the City Mayor. But that was in 1939.

Don Tomas Morato, the first Quezon City mayor realized the growing need to organize his own police force to contain the city's peace and order. To start with, Morato appointed Sabino de Leon of Bataan to head a force of six policemen and a sergeant.

At the outbreak of WW II, QC was incorporated with Manila that formed the newly created Metropolitan Constabulary. Partially dismantled, some of them stayed with the force, while others chose to join the underground guerrilla movements.

Thereafter, a Provost Marshall enforced law in Manila including Quezon City. In February 1947, a new set of sixty officers and men under Col. Crisanto V. Alba underwent basic training to constitute the post war QCPD. By 1950, 170 men were recruited to augment the city force. Two years later, another batch of 204 were admitted to meet the growing demands of the city.

The election of the late President Ramon Magsaysay in 1953 made a dramatic change in the city. Magsaysay's personal aide, Col. Vicente O. Novales, was appointed Chief of Police of Quezon City vice Col. Alba who was designated Malacañang adviser on police matters. Then came an extensive police training program as more men were taken in. Rigid initiations to the service were introduced with the cooperation of the International Cooperative Administration, the National Bureau of Investigation, and the Philippine Constabulary.

Worthy of Mention are the Chiefs of Police who pioneered and served with dedication the Quezon City Police Department from its birth in 1939 to the present: Tomas Morato – 1939, Alfonso Torillo – 1939, Capt. Sabino de Leon – 1940 to 1941, Capt. Severino David – Japanese Occupation, Col. Crisanto V. Alba – 1947, Col. Escolastico M. Luz – 1948 to 1950, Col. Vicente Novales – 1954, Maj. Bibiano M. Viña – 1958, Col Tomas B. Kariñgal – 1960 to 1964, Col. Abenir D. Bornales – 1964 to 1965, Col. Tomas B. Kariñgal 1965 to date.

A series of changes followed. From a mere six policemen and a sergeant in 1939, the Quezon City Police force has gone a long way up. Now it prides 1,086 men and personnel. From the basic pay of P80.00 a month in 1947, its men are now receiving a minimum salary of P500.00 monthly.

Conditions in Quezon City Before September 21, 1973

The beginning of this fiscal year ushered in an alarming increase of criminality compounded by nationwide disturbances and seething turmoil and unrest among our people. Against this background of wanton destruction of lives and property, widespread lawlessness and anarchy, chaos and disorder – a condition brougth about by groups engaged in a conspiracy to seize political and state power through force and violence, His Excellency, President Ferdinand E. Marcos of the Philippines declared Martial Law under Proclamation 1081 on September 21, 1972. The main purpose of this historic action was to enable the President to restore within the shortest possible time the safety and tranquility of our people by supressing all forms of lawlesness.

Effects of Martial Law

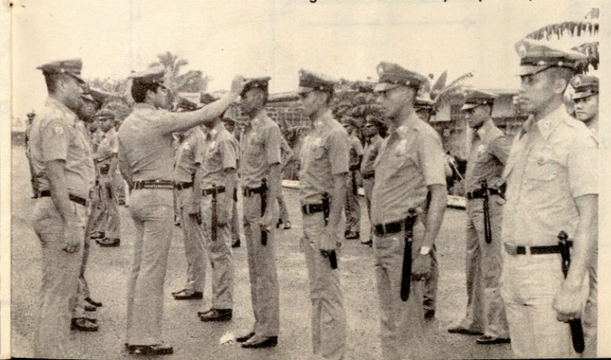

Along with this decisive action of the President, immediate reforms were initiated in the government set-up as well as in the private sectors to spark the promotion of a progressive mode of living under a New Society. The impact of Martial Law has rekindled in our people vibrant hopes for the attainment of development goals for the social, economic and political well-being of our citizens.

Consonant with this revitalized program of reforms, full blast operations were launched by the QCPD characterized by speedy harnessing of our limited resources for the attainment of our set goals under the New Society. The initiation of these reforms was a dynamic process, which, in spite of the expected resistance of certain quarters to sudden change, our enthusiasm to go along with the new order, was heightened through the cooperative and harmonious relationship with the military and civilian authorities particularly the Philippine Constabulary, the PC-METROCOM, the Quezon City administration and the NAPOLCOM whose pooled efforts and invaluable assistance to us was beyoned estimation.

In carrying out the primary policies, purposes and objectives of the Department under Martial Law, sharp and defined focus and emphasis was initially directed towards the ferreting out of undersirables, incompetents and misfits in the department.

On account of martial law, criminal elements who were before considered untouchable by reason of their inability to elude the minions of the law, were flushed out of their lairs and unceremoniously thrown behind prison bars, or into the PC Stockade.

Where before firearms were being sported or toted around by notorious police characters, hooligans, thieves and cut-threats under guise of authority or power, the same were instantly wiped out by the sweeping mandates of reforms for a better and new society.

Obviously, the implementation of these reforms, has greatly contributed to the reduced incidence of criminality in our midst.

Below is a comparative crime report in Quezon City.

LAW ENFORCEMENT CODE OF ETHICS

AS A LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICER, my fundamental duty is to serve mankind; to safeguard lives and property; to protect the innocent against deception, the weak against oppression or intimidation, and the peaceful against violence or disorder; and to respect the Constitutional rights of all men to liberty, equality and justice.

I WILL keep my private life unsullied as an example to all; maintain courageous calm in the face of danger, scorn or redicule; develop self-restraint; and constantly mindful of the welfare of others. Honest in thought and deed in both my personal and official life, I will be exemplary in obeying the laws of the land the regulations of my department. Whatever I see or hear of a confidential nature or that is confided to me in my official capacity will be kept ever secret unless revelation is necessary in the performance of my duty.

I WILL never act officiously or permit personal feelings, prejudices, animosities or friendships to influence my decisions. With no compromise for crime and with relentless prosecution of criminals, I will enforce the law courteously and appropriately without fear or favor, malice or ill will, never employing unnecessary force or violence and never accepting gratitudes.

I RECOGNIZE the badge of my office as a symbol of public faith, and I accept it as a public trust to be held as long as I am true to the ethics of the police service. I will constantly strive to achieve these objectives and ideals, dedicating myself before GOD to my chosen profession . . . law enforcement.
