2023 was QC'S best year

Manila Bulletin · 2 Feb 2024 · C-22 · By AARON HOMER DIOQUINO

Quezon City Mayor Joy Belmonte said that 2023 was the best year so far for the city government after its harvest of multiple awards and citations for the city's programs on equality, human rights, environmental protection, livelihood, businesses, and social services for the people.

The United Nations Environment Programme also named Belmonte a “champion of the Earth” for her efforts to transform the Philippines’ most populous city into an environmental trail-blazer. She was recognized in the policy leadership category of the 2023 Champions of the Earth award, which is the intergovernmental organization’s highest environmental honor.

The Philippine Chamber of Commerce and Industry (PCCI) named Mayor Joy Belmonte as Most Outstanding Business Friendly mayor for her successful Bizeasy project whose digitized processes helped businessmen with faster, efficient, and corruption-free City Hall transactions. Belmonte received the Dangal ng Bayan Award from the Gawad Pilipino Awards of EUROTV Philippines for her excellent and honest leadership and for her dedication and worth ethic. She also received the Civil Service Commission-national Capital Region (CSC-NCR) Presidential Lingkod Bayan Award for her outstanding performance as a public servant in 2023. Belmonte was named “National Outstanding Mayor of the Year” by the Saludo Excellence Awards, “Outstanding Mayor” citation during the 7th Mandatory Continuing Legal Education (MCLE) Accredited National Convention of Public Attorneys, and “Outstanding Women” and Public Servant of the Year from the Crystal International Women’s Awards, among many other awards.
